INTRODUCTION.

Orders, societies and governments were instituted for the purpose of making a united effort in a given direction. What one man cannot accomplish, many men united can. Hence great enterprises for the well-being of mankind are carried forward by companies. Governments are formed by uniting a number of people under one form or code of laws. Societies are organizations of a number of persons to accomplish a certain object, or to obtain a desired end. Man was made a social being; he must have society, or the company of a fellow-being, or he will drift into barbarism and brutality. Man is an intelligent being. Civilization, art, science, and architecture, and government, must come only from an united effort. Therefore, the members of the International Order of Twelve have formed one band, united by the strongest ties of friendship, and bound together by solemn obligations, and established on a firm basis, for the purpose of making a united and effective effort in aiding each member in sickness or distress, to protect and defend each other, to aid and help the widows and orphans of members that died in good standing, to inculcate true morality, that the members of the International Order of Twelve may be an example to the masses of mankind.

It is the highest and bounden duty of every member of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor to individually and collectively help to spread and build up the Christian religion. The Order of Twelve is non-sectarian—all members of the Order are free to make their choice of any Evangelical Church. The members of this Order are reminded that education and a cultivated mind will open the way to a useful and respected life. We are admonished to use every honorable method to advance the cause of education. The members of the International Order of Twelve are advised to acquire real estate—this makes a man or woman a substantial and reliable citizen. Avoid intemperance; cultivate true manhood; eschew immoral and degraded people. Let your bearing and deportment be such that will show you to be a lady or a gentleman. Live an exemplary life, and you will die respected. Knights and Daughters of Tabor, it is in your power to make the International Order of Twelve a real and lasting benefit to mankind.

THE FOUNDER AND FATHER.

“Rev. Moses Dickson was born in the City of Cincinnati, Ohio, April 5th, 1824. His parents, Robert and Hannah Dickson, were natives of Virginia. They moved to Ohio just three months before the subject of this sketch was born. Mr. Dickson’s father died A. D. 1832; his mother departed this life A. D. 1838. She was truly a Christian mother, and became a member of the first A. M. E. Church that was organized in Cincinnati. Her children were all christened by Elder Wm. Paul Quinn, a number of years before he was made a bishop.

“Mr. Dickson had five sisters and three brothers—all have passed away—and he has not a relative living at this date, A. D. 1891. He learned the barber’s profession with the well-known William Darnes. While learning the tonsorial art, he attended school, and mastered all the branches of study that were taught in that early day. At the age of sixteen he felt a desire to see the South. He embarked on a steamboat, and traveled for three years, on various boats, upon the different southern rivers and bayous.

“In these travels he saw slavery in all its horrors; he witnessed such scenes of monstrous cruelty as caused his African blood to boil with suppressed indignation at the sight of the outrageous suffering of his people. What he saw in these three years made a lasting impression on his heart, and he became a life-foe to the slave-owner, the slave-driver and the slave-trader. In his travels he made the acquaintance of a few true and trusty young men, who were ready to enter into any plan that would assure freedom to the African race. These men knew that the magnitude of the work would require time, courage and patience to make a success of any plan they might adopt. They resolved to take two years to study out a plan, and meet in the City of St. Louis, Mo., the second Tuesday in the month of August, 1846, to prepare for business.

“Mr. Dickson embarked on board of the steamer ‘Oronoco,’ at New Orleans, in the month of May, 1844; and made the trip to St. Louis, remaining in that city during the summer. For two years he traveled through Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. August, 1846, he was in the City of St. Louis, preparing to meet his young friends. He had in the meantime prepared a plan to be submitted to them. On the second Tuesday in August, as per agreement, twelve men assembled in the second story of an old brick house, on the southeast corner of Green and Seventh streets. (The name of Green St. has since been changed to Lucas Ave.) They were just the kind of men to carry to success the secret and great work of obtaining liberty for the bondsmen. Mr. Dickson read his plan for operating, and, after a very careful discussion of all its parts, it was adopted. Organizations were secretly to be made in the Southern States. None but reliable, fearless men were to be enrolled. The organizers were to carefully pick the men that were courageous, patient, temperate, and possessed of sound common sense. This was what was required in every man that was enrolled. The oath that bound them together was so binding that it could not be broken. One feature of it was: ‘I can die, but I cannot reveal the name of any member until the slaves are free.’ This oath never was broken. All the matter pertaining to the business was finished, and each man understood his part. Mr. Dickson was elected Chief; he was to remain North and watch events, and keep the members posted. Ten years was the time fixed on to open battle for freedom.

“It will not be amiss now to give the names of the men who, like the Twelve Apostles, commenced the great work for Liberty: John Patton and Henry Wright, in South Carolina; James Bedford and Silus W. Green, in Mississippi; Irvin Hodges, in Alabama; Peter Coleman and Willis Owens, in Virginia; James Orr, in Louisiana; Miles Graves, in North Carolina; Henry Simpson, in Georgia; Lewis Williams, in Tennessee, and Moses Dickson, their Chief. These men, with their aides, formed organizations in all the Slave States, except Missouri and Texas. Silently, like the falling of Autumn leaves, the organizations multiplied, until, in 1856, the army of true and trusty men numbered forty-seven thousand, two hundred and forty Knights of Liberty.

“Mr. Dickson will give, in another place, details of this wonderful organization, its secrecy, its mode of operation, its drill, the many incidents in its history, and why the battle was not opened in 1856.

“One incident I must name: The first organization that was created, under the distinct name of the Order of Twelve, was organized in the City of Galena, Ills., by Mr. Dickson, at the residence of Alfred H. Richardson, in August, 1855. The secret work of the Knights of Liberty was not imparted to this Society.

“Mr. Dickson was married to Mrs. Mary Elisabeth Peters, in Galena, Ills., on the 5th day of October, 1848. She has been his companion in joys and sorrows for forty-two years (up to 1891, when she departed this life). She was an exemplary Christian, a true and loving wife, a sound and able counselor. She was loved by all that were acquainted with her throughout the South and West. She was known by the dear name of Mother Dickson.

“Mr. Dickson has one child, Mrs. Mamie Augusta Hayden, the widow of Harry Halyard Hayden. They have one child, Zennie Arvesta. This child was adopted by the Order of Twelve at their National Grand Session, held in Louisville, Ky., in 1885. Her title is Princess of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor. Mr. Dickson fixed his headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., in 1859, that he might be near the Knights of Liberty to guide their affairs. After the war was over, the work begun by the twelve—seemingly his work for his people—was finished, but he could not rest; schools for Colored children must be opened. He, with a number of other stalwart men, worked with energy in the lobby at Jefferson City, Mo. At length, under the administration of Governor McClurg, the present school laws for Missouri were adopted. Mr. Dickson's next move was to procure Colored teachers for Colored Schools. It was a hard fight, but the move was a success. Now, throughout the State of Missouri, Colored schools have Colored teachers.

“Mr. Dickson took an active part in the founding of ‘Lincoln Institute,’ at Jefferson City, Mo. He was Trustee and Vice-President of the Board for several years, and remained in the Board until the success of the Institute was a fixed fact. Mr. Dickson is a member of the Republican Party, and he remains true to it. He was a Delegate to every State Convention of Missouri, from 1864 to 1878, and stumped the State several times in the interests of the party; he was Elector-at-Large on the Grant ticket in 1872, and did good work. Mr. Dickson was President of the Refugee Relief Board, in St. Louis, Mo., in 1878. This Board received and cared for about sixteen thousand men, women and children, who were fleeing from Southern oppression. The whole North and East was stirred up, and thousands of dollars were received by the Board from the East and North to aid the fugitives. This money, with hundreds of large boxes of clothing and provisions that were received, enabled the President and the Board to send the refugees to their destinations comfortably clothed and with ample provisions to last them for several months. Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, and other Northern States received these fugitives from oppression. Mr. Dickson has not lost sight of them in the several States wherein they have settled. He finds them good citizens and doing well. Kansas received over ten thousand of them.

“Mr. Dickson was converted and joined the A. M. E. Church in 1866, and was licensed to preach in 1867. He has held large and small charges for a number of years, and has had invariably good success in the management of churches. He is known as a church-builder, a debt-payer and a revivalist. Thirteen hundred and ninety persons have been converted in the different charges during his pastorate. Mother Dickson has been a great help to him in his pastoral work.

“The International Order of Twelve, of Knights and Daughters of Tabor, is an evidence of Mr. Dickson’s skill as an organizer. The Society that was organized by him in Galena, in 1855, disbanded in 1859. The Knights of Liberty had become extinct after the War of the Rebellion. At the close of that war, not a man, so far as known, of that great number, returned from the battle-field, except Mr. Dickson; he, as an independent fighter, was in thirteen hard-fought battles, and returned home in 1864, not having received a scratch from the enemy’s bullets.

“In 1865, all that was found of the Galena Society were seven; their names are in the Manual. In 1868 Mr. Dickson decided to create a Beneficial Order to perpetuate the memory of the twelve that organized the Knights of Liberty. After three years of preparation, in 1871, he was ready to commence the work. He organized a Temple and Tabernacle in Independence, Mo.; a Tabernacle in Kansas City, Mo.; a Temple and Tabernacle in Lexington, Mo. With these five organizations a Convention was called to meet in Independence, Mo., the second Tuesday in August, 1872. This Convention organized the National Grand Temple and Tabernacle of the Order of Twelve, of Knights and Daughters of Tabor. The Child of Destiny was born and named. Mr. Dickson, with his usual energy and perseverance, pushed the work of organizing, aided by a number of Knights and Daughters.

“The Order grew rapidly, spreading from State to State, gathering strength in its onward march. Mr. Dickson did not spare time nor money; he used all the means that were at his command to build a lasting Beneficial Order. Within eighteen years this Order has taken its place and rank with the greatest Colored organizations of the world. It has had strong opposition at every step put forward; but, ‘forward’ was the motto. The father and founder has lived to see his work firmly fixed on a solid basis, going onward, gaining strength daily, and a benefit to thousands. This Order meets the necessities and wants of the Colored people. It encourages Christianity, education, morality and temperance; it teaches the art of governing, self-reliance and true manhood and womanhood. It recommends to its members the getting of homes and the acquiring of wealth. It teaches the greatness, goodness and mercy of God, and man’s responsibility to the Supreme Being.

TABOR.

Dec. 1st, 1890.”

Extract of the I. C. G. M.'s Message to the Triennial Grand Session, held in St. Louis, Mo., August, A. D. 1890:

A CHANGE OF TIME.

“We have been much perplexed and bothered in explaining the two dates of the original organization. Our public speakers are hampered when they come to this part of our history. The organization of the Order of Twelve that was made in Galena, Ills., in 1855, was made to perpetuate the names of the Twelve Knights of Tabor, who were so successful in enrolling the 47,000 Knights of Liberty, for the purpose of aiding in breaking the bonds of our slavery. This secret organization of the Knights of Liberty was one of the strongest and most secret of any organization ever formed by men. The question of giving the history of this organization to the world is one that has had my most earnest thoughts for several years. There are so many families of the old men of renown, both in this country and England, that are now living and hold high positions, that they might be injured by revealing the secrets of the Knights of Liberty and giving the names of their fathers. I had almost decided to let this part of our history rest in the grave, more especially since God found other means to give us our manhood and freedom; but the names of the twelve men who were instruments in God's hands in preparing and organizing 47,000 men of undoubted courage to do battle for our freedom shall be perpetuated. God fixed the time, and every man was at his post. In their death struggles they gave to us the boon of liberty. Precious be their memory.

“The organization that was made in Galena, Ills., was no part of the Knights of Liberty. They were simply organized to perpetuate the name, ‘Order of Twelve, of Knights of Tabor.’” I made the organization in the residence of Alfred H. Richardson. The names of the Knights that were known to be alive in 1872 were given in the old Manual, and are: A. H. Richardson, R. H. Cain, Wm. P. Emery, James T. Smith, J. Garrett Johnson and G. Christopher. This organization closed its doors at the beginning of the great Rebellion and never opened again. I have given this statement, that we may be enabled to change the date of our Order’s birth. This Order, in its present form, was changed from the original warlike order, Order of Twelve, into a Beneficial Secret Order, and the real date of the birth of our Order is the 12th of August, A. D. 1872. On that day the Representatives of three Tabernacles and two Temples assembled in the City of Independence, State of Missouri, and organized the Order of Twelve, of Knights and Daughters of Tabor, and elected Grand Officers. The birthday of this great Order of ours is the 12th day of August, 1872. The first Grand Session was held in the same city the second Tuesday in August, A. D. 1873.

“I refer to these matters as a part of the history of the Order, and that all official papers may give the correct date, the 12th of August, 1890, A. O. T., age of Taborians—18 years. I recommend that the 12th of August be made the day to celebrate the birthday of the International Order of Twelve. I recommend that the Triennial Grand Session be changed from the second Tuesday in August. The fourth Tuesday in the month of August was fixed by this Triennial Grand Session as the day to assemble. The 12th day of August was made the day for our annual celebration, in commemoration of the birthday of the Order.

KNIGHTS OF LIBERTY.

“This organization was known among its members by the name of Knights of Tabor—a name that gave the members courage. That God was with Barak and Deborah, in Israel’s great battle with the immense army of Sisera; they, with only ten thousand men, assembled on Tabor, to fight Jabin’s army, and, if possible, win the victory and break the bondage of the Israelites. God was with Israel, and gave the victory to the bondsmen, though they were opposed by twenty times their number. Our cause was just, and we believed in the justice of the God of Israel and the rights of man. Under the old name of Tabor, we resolved to make full preparation to strike the blow for liberty. We felt sure that the Lord God was on the side of right and justice, our faith and trust was in him, and that he would help us in our needy time.

SECRECY.

“From the very origin of the organization of the Knights of Liberty, the necessity of secrecy was impressed on each member. Let not your right hand know what your left hand does; trust no one, and test every man before he is admitted to membership. A part of the oath was: ‘We can die, but we can’t reveal the name of a member, or make known the organization and its objects.’ It was

Mrs. MARY ELIZABETH DICKSON.

Born August 18th, 1818. Died February 1st, 1891, aged 72 years, 5 months and 13 days.

Extract from an eulogy delivered by Rev. Sir R. L. Beal, at the memorial services of Mother Dickson, held at Independence, Mo., February 23d, 1891:

“Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dickson was born in the town of Ste. Genevieve, County of Ste. Genevieve, State of Missouri, August 18th, 1818. Her parents were members of the Roman Catholic Church. She was the youngest of ten children. When she was twelve years old her parents sent her to St. Louis to reside with her sister Louisa and attend school. She received her education at the old Sacred Heart Convent. Her father, John Sebastian Butcher, was a German, born near the boundary line between France and Germany. He was a stone-cutter and builder, and one among the first settlers of Ste. Genevieve. Her mother’s name was Mary Butcher. The family was highly respected by all who knew them, and were owners of considerable property in the town of Ste. Genevieve. Miss Mary E. Butcher was married at the age of 17 years to Mr. Caleb Peters, and in 1838 they moved to Galena, Ills. Mr. Peters opened a provision store, and continued in that business until his death, in 1846. Mrs. Peters was converted and joined the A. M. E. Church, in 1845. She remained a widow until she married Moses Dickson. The ceremony was performed by the then famous A. M. E. Elder, George W. Johnson, Oct. 5th, 1848, in the City of Galena, Ills. For over forty-two years Rev. and Mrs. Dickson have traveled together, living in peace and harmony, bearing each other’s troubles and trials. Their home-life was pleasant, loving and trusting.

Mother Dickson is the honorable title that she was known by. She has been a consistent and earnest Christian, and a member of the A. M. E. Church for more than 45 years. She was a faithful and zealous worker in the church for many years, until she became too old for active work; she was full of fire, and one of God's greatest women. The International Order of Twelve, of which the Rev. Moses Dickson is the Founder and Father, recognizing the influence and part that Daughter Dickson had in building up the Order, did, at the Grand Session, August, 1882, by a unanimous vote, elect and install her into the honorable office and title of Mother of all Knights and Daughters of Tabor, for life. She is held in great esteem and honored by all the members of the great Order. Rev. Moses Dickson is the founder of the Court of Heroines. At the organization of St. Mary's Court, A. D. 1865, in St. Louis, Mo., Sister Dickson was made a charter member. St. Mary's Court is the first and oldest regularly organized Court in the United States. Sister Dickson has presided as Most Ancient Matron and Most Ancient Grand Matron. Mother Dickson was a member of R. H. Gleaves Tabernacle of Brothers and Sisters of Love and Charity in this city. When the Grand Lodge of Good Samaritans and Daughters of Samaria, for Kansas and Missouri, was organized at St. Joseph, Mo., Mother Dickson was made an honorary member. She has been in ill health for four years. Sunday, January 18th, she was confined to her bed; she gradually grew weaker from day to day; day and night her doctor, family and friends did everything to retain her on earth ; but the Lord said to his faithful follower—come home! Sunday night, at 10:35 P. M., her spirit obeyed the summons; she bid farewell to the church on earth ; in the church triumphant she has taken her place among the redeemed from earth. She leaves a husband, a daughter and a grand-child, and a large number of relations in various parts of the United States, to mourn her departure. Her age was 72 years, 5 months and 13 days when she entered into rest.

“We are brought together by order of the Chief Grand Mentor, to pay tribute to a noble woman, whose influence has done more to cement the bonds by which we are bound together in common brotherhood, than to any other individual effort put forth for the promotion of our mystic Order. To-day hundreds—yea, thousands—rise up to call her blessed. All over this land, wherever our Order has gained a foothold, the name of Mother Dickson is a household word, for she was the hidden force behind the executive chair which urged her husband to the first place in the scale of human endeavor, that we must look elsewhere for proof. After careful investigation, we reach the conclusion that the Creator has planted in the breast of every human certain innate principles. Some of which are will to do and power to act in human affairs, which, if cultivated, make us useful in whatever sphere we are placed. With hearts willing, minds to plan and hands to execute, our possibilities are unlimited. Our venerable mother was possessed of these qualifications, and cultivated them, and looked forward to the time when opportunity would favor her to put into practice schemes that would lead to deeds of lofty heroism.

“But wherein lay the secret of her success, that wraps itself, as if by magic spell, around our hearts?

“Let us enter the laboratory of human character, and analyze the elements which make up the good and the great. It is claimed by some high in authority that lineal descent, through the law of heredity, transmits greatness from the parental stock to the children; but history has so often refuted this, by the splendid achievements she has recorded of some lowly born, who, in the humble walks of life surmounted every difficulty, took the front ranks in the annals of Fame, thereby proving their right to which, she conceived, would promote the best interests of the race. The geometrical truism, which says: ‘If equals be added to equals, the remainder will be equals,’ is a fitting analogy of the conjugal ties between Father and Mother Dickson; each was suited and equal to the other. If certain qualities appeared more prominent in him, such as the marshaling and organizing the crude material of which the Taborian Order is composed, she was the refiner of these forces; his nature was the more rugged, hers was the more gentle. He, the impetuous commander, at times became discouraged at the gigantic undertaking of building up a society that should have a national reputation. She was the patient, steady plodder, who encouraged and kept up his spirit.

“When truth shall give a hearing to our cause, and the work done by our great men shall be properly accredited, the Africo-Americans will be allowed to build upon some public thoroughfare a monument to Father Dickson, the master-organizer of the race. As its shaft will rise heavenward, our youth, with uncovered head, will point with pride to the illustrious name engraved thereon. Love, fairest daughter of the virtues, will continue to write on the hearts of the coming children, who are to perpetuate this Order, the name of Mary E. Dickson. She was a mother to us in the fullest sense of the word. She knew no creed, no denomination, simply for its name.

“While a member of the Methodistic family, she practiced that broad religion which comes from a pure heart. Her doors were always opened to the distressed. She fed the hungry, clothed the naked, comforted the lowly in spirit. There are some here to-night that received counsel from her, when you needed the advice of a friend. Some in this city, and many in other places where she has been, when she would give up her bed to see you comfortable.

“Her sainted face presents itself before me to-night; that sweet voice, which has soothed so many sad hearts, whispers from across the mystic river. But why do we mourn for her as one lost. She is not dead; no; for those sainted souls can never die. Her influence lives on. She will never be seen by us with the natural eye, but we can hold communion with her in spirit. Her seraph wing will stretch over us, and her works will live, although she is removed from us. We shall all see her again when the despised Galileean shall step from the throne of His sovereign mercy to that of His sovereign justice; when the revived, at the shrill blast of the trumpets, shall wake to life, and throw off their winding sheets at the world's glad re-union.

“We close with this climax, borrowed from Dr. Munsay's last sermon on the resurrection of the human body. (Mother Dickson will be with all the sanctified.) When the battlefields of the world: Troy and Thermopylæ, Palavera and Marengo, Austerlitz and Waterloo, Marathon and Missolough, the battlefields of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, will produce their armies, and crowd the world with their revived legions, Indian maidens will leap from the dust of our streets, and our houses overturning, will lead their chiefs to Judgment. Abraham will shake off the dust of Machpelah, and arise with Sarah by his side. David will come with harp in hand. The Reformer of Geneva and the Apostles of Christianity will come side by side.

“Our village church-yards and family burial-grounds will be deserted. All will come: patriarchs, prophets, Jews and Gentiles, and Heathens, bond and free, rich and poor, fathers and mothers, children, sisters, brothers, husbands, wives. All from Adam down will come forth. And all the good from around the world, all together, will hail this redemption's grand consummation with one proud anthem, whose choral thunders rolling along all the paths of space will shake the universe with its bursting chorus: ‘O, death, where is thy sting? O, grave, where is thy victory?’”

ARTICLE VII.

DUTIES OF INTERNATIONAL GRAND OFFICERS.

SECTION 1.—The International Chief Grand Mentor shall preside at all Sessions of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and call Special Sessions when he deems it necessary, or when requested by two-thirds of the Chief Grand Mentors. He shall decide all points and questions of order in the Triennial Grand Session—appoint officers pro-tem. in the absence or disqualification of the officer elected or appointed. He can open and close the Triennial Session without a motion. He shall make to the Triennial Session a report of the business that has been transacted during the interval since the last Session. He shall appoint all committees not otherwise ordered by the Triennial Session. He can order the I. C. G. S. and I. C. G. T. to report to him the condition of the treasury at any time. His signature to a warrant on the Treasurer makes it legal. No money can be paid out of the treasury without his signature. He shall organize Grand Temples and Tabernacles under the International Charter, in any State, Territory or country, when he is satisfied that they have the constitutional number of organizations within their boundary. He must supply the Grand Temples and Tabernacles that he organizes with all the requisites to commence business as a Grand body. He can organize Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in person or by Deputy, in any part of the civilized world, and assign such organizations to the nearest Grand Temple and Tabernacle, or organize them into International Districts. He must issue the quarterly Pass in the months of March, June, September and December, and furnish a sufficient supply to the C. G. Ms., for all Temples and Tabernacles. He must decide on all matters that are requested of him by the C. G. Ms. or C. G. Ps.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND PRECEPTRESS.

SEC. 2.—It shall be the duty of the I. C. G. P. to assist the I. C. G. M. during the business of the Triennial Session, when he is absent from the Chair at any time during the Session. She must give such instructions and assistance to Chief Grand Preceptresses as they may request of her. She is authorized to organize Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in any part of the civilized world, and, if in a State where there is a Grand Temple and Tabernacle, report her organizations to the C. G. M. for a charter. She must make a full report to the Triennial Session of her work and official business during the interval since the last Triennial Session.

INTERNATIONAL VICE-GRAND MENTOR.

SEC. 3.—It shall be the duty of the I. V.-G. M. to assist the I. C. G. M. in keeping order during the Triennial Session. In the event of the death or mental inability of the I. C. G. M., the I. V.-G. M. shall attend to and perform all the duties of the I. C. G. M. until another is elected at the Triennial Session and installed.

INTERNATIONAL VICE-GRAND PRECEPTRESS.

SEC. 4.—It is the duty of the I. V.-G. P. to assist the I. V.-G. M. in his duties during the Triennial Session. Should the I. C. G. P. be removed by death, or resign her office, the I. V.-G. P. must fill her station and attend to its duties until the regular election.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND SCRIBE.

SEC. 5.—The I C. G. S. shall have charge of all the records, and keep a journal of the proceedings of the Triennial Session. He must keep and preserve all official papers. He shall keep a register of all Grand Temples and Tabernacles, and a copy of their seals. He shall attest all official papers that are issued from his office with the seal of his office. He shall collect the International Grand dues and other moneys due the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle; and pay them to the I. C. G. T. He shall draw all warrants for money on the Grand Treasurer, and have them signed by the I. C. G. M., and sign his name and impress his seal thereon. He must make a full report of all business that has been transacted in his office to each Triennial Session. At the expiration of his term of office he must deliver to his successor all books, papers and property that are in his possession belonging to the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND RECORDER.

SEC. 6.—It shall be the duty of the I. C. G. R. to assist the I. C. G. S. in the business of the Triennial Session, and aid him in getting the proceedings ready for the printer, and perform such other duties pertaining to her office as may be assigned to her.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND TREASURER.

SEC. 7.—It shall be the duty of the I. C. G. T. to receive all moneys and valuables belonging to the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and keep a correct account of what he receives. He must pay all warrants drawn on the Treasurer that are signed by the I. C. G. M. and I. C. G. S. He shall make a full report to the Triennial Session of the amount of money received and disbursed. His books shall always be ready for the inspection of the I. C. G. M., or any committee appointed by him. At the expiration of his term of office he must deliver to his successor all books, papers, moneys and valuables, belonging to the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

INTERNATIONAL GRAND QUEEN MOTHER.

SEC. 8.—It is the duty of the I. G. Q. M. to communicate with the Grand Queen Mothers of the Grand Temples and Tabernacles, and receive from them the annual reports of the Tents and their condition, the number of Tents, and the number of children in the Tents. She must make a triennial report of all Tents to the Triennial Session.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND ORATOR.

SEC. 9.—The I. C. G. O. shall conduct the devotional exercises of the Triennial Session, and perform the functions of Chaplain on public occasions, and preach the triennial sermon, and conduct the funeral services of all International Grand Officers.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND PRIESTESS.

SEC. 10.—It is the duty of the I. C. G. Ps. to assist the I. C. G. O. in the exercises of the Triennial Session; and when he is absent from the Session, she shall attend to the opening and closing of the Session in the usual form.

INTERNATIONAL GRAND DRILL-MASTER.

SEC. 11.—The I. G. D.-M. shall assist the I. G. I. St. in her duties at the inner door of the hall. He shall perform the functions of Chief Marshal at all public processions of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and has authority to appoint Aides. He must give instructions to the Grand Drill-Masters, when they so request. He must arrange the hall for the Triennial Session, assisted by the I. C. G. Gs.

INTERNATIONAL GRAND INNER SENTINEL.

SEC. 12.—It is the duty of the I. G. I. St. to guard the inside door during the Triennial Session, and to admit none, unless they give the proper Pass and are properly clothed. She must report all applicants for admission to the I. V.-G. M., and admit or reject them on his order.

INTERNATIONAL GRAND COLOR BEARER.

SEC. 13.—It is the duty of the I. G. C. B. to take care of the International Banner, and carry it in public processions.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND SENTINEL.

SEC. 14.—The I. C. G. St. shall have charge of the outer door of the hall during the International Grand Session. He must notify the I. G. I. St.

when a Knight or Daughter desires admittance. It is his business to see that they are properly clothed before he permits them to enter.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND JUDGES.

SEC. 15.—The Board of International Chief Grand Judges shall consist of seven members—three Knights and four Daughters. This Board shall investigate all appeals, grievances and complaints that are referred to it by the International Session; they must report their decisions to the International Session. This Board shall have authority to impeach an International Chief Grand Mentor in accordance with Article XVII of the International Constitution.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND TRIBUNES.

SEC. 16.—It shall be the duty of the I. C. G. Tes. to assist the I. C. G. Gs. in their several duties. This Board shall consist of seven Daughters.

INTERNATIONAL CHIEF GRAND GUARDS.

SEC. 17.—This Board shall consist of five Knights, whose duty it is to attend on the members under the orders of the I. C. G. M., and they shall assist the I. G. D.-M. in preparing the hall for the International Sessions.

ARTICLE VIII.

INTERNATIONAL DEPUTIES.

SECTION 1.—Commissions are issued by the I. C. G. M. to none but those distinguished members of the Order who have by their zeal and earnest work aided in building up and enlarging the Order.

Their commissions are evidence of their high standing in the International Order of Twelve. This constitutional provision is not to be departed from, except when a Deputy is needed for organizing.

SEC. 2.—An International Deputy Grand Mentor shall have authority to organize and set up Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in any part of the United States of North America, and in any part of the civilized world.

SEC. 3.—An International Grand Deputy shall have the authority to organize and set up Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in any part of the United States of North America, and in any part of the civilized world.

SEC. 4.—The I. C. G. M. can appoint Special International Deputy Grand Mentors, and assign them to special duty, with specific instructions.

SEC. 5.—When an International Deputy organizes within the boundaries of a Grand Temple and Tabernacle, the organization must be reported to the Chief Grand Mentor of the State in which the organization has made application for a charter or warrant.

SEC. 6.—When an International Deputy organizes at any place that is not within the boundaries of a Grand Temple and Tabernacle, the organization must be reported to the International Chief Grand Mentor for charter or warrant.

SEC. 7.—An International commission creates and makes the bearer a life member in the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, with all of its rights and privileges. If the bearer is a Knight, he must be and remain a member in good standing

ARTICLE XVI.

POWERS AND PREROGATIVES OF THE I. C. G. M.

SECTION 1.—He can organize and set Grand Temples and Tabernacles to work, and constitute them by International Charter.

SEC. 2. His decisions are final on all questions that are submitted to him from the C. G. M.s of Grand Temples and Tabernacles.

SEC. 3.—His decisions on International and General Laws and Rules remain in force until reversed by his successor.

SEC. 4.—He can visit any Grand Temple and Tabernacle when in Session, and have his traveling expenses paid by the Grand Session that he visits.

SEC. 5.—He can arrest the charter and suspend a Grand Temple and Tabernacle, when it is clear that they are in rebellion against the International and General Laws of the Order of Twelve.

SEC. 6.—He can preside at all meetings of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

SEC. 7. — He can assemble the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle in Special Session at any time, if he decides that it is necessary for the interests of the Order.

SEC. 8.—He can call all the C. G. M.s and C. G. P.s into a council whenever grave and important business concerning the Order demands an united consultation and action.

SEC. 9.—When complaint or charges are made against a C. G. M. for violation of the criminal laws of the State, county or city, or for immorality or imbecility, by a majority of the elected Grand Officers, the I. C. G. M., when he receives the charges and specifications, properly signed, shall suspend the said C. G. M. from his official duties, and notify the V.-G. M. to take charge of the C. G. M.'s official business. The I. C. G. M. shall order a committee of three C. G. M.s to meet and investigate the case. If this committee reports him guilty, as charged, the I. C. G. M. shall suspend him from the Order, and notify him to meet the Triennial Session for trial. If the committee decides that he is innocent in their report, the I. C. G. M. shall restore him to his office and official duties. The Grand Temple and Tabernacle that has a case of this kind, must pay the traveling expenses and per diem of the committee. The I. C. G. M. must fix the place, and notify the accused and the committee where to assemble. The committee shall have the authority to summons witnesses for and against the accused.

SEC. 10.—The I. C. G. M. can confer the Temple and Tabernacle degrees on all persons of distinction, and assign them to any Temple or Tabernacle for membership. Such persons are to be enrolled without ballot, but they must obey the laws and rules governing the Temple or Tabernacle.

SEC. 11.—The I. C. G. M. can give a dispensation to open a Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and allow them to proceed with their business. When their charter is lost or misplaced, the dispensation will hold good until it is found or another one is granted.

SEC. 12.—He can appoint as many International Deputies as he desires.

SEC. 13.—He cannot be disciplined for his official acts after he has passed out of office.

ARTICLE XVII.

IMPEACHMENT.

SECTION 1.—An International Chief Grand Mentor can be impeached for the following offenses: First, for violating the criminal laws, if he is arrested and found guilty, and sentenced to prison; second, for immoral conduct; and third, for imbecility.

SEC. 2.—When an I. C. G. M. is found guilty in a criminal court and sentenced to prison, the Chairman of the Board of International Grand Judges must assemble the Board, and investigate the case, and if they find that the evidence is clear and that he was justly sentenced, they are authorized to declare his seat vacant, and notify the I. V.-G. M. to take charge of the I. C. G. M.'s office and attend to all its duties.

SEC. 3.—If the I. C. G. M. is accused of immoral conduct, and it is notoriously the common talk of his neighbors, a charge can be made by three or more members of the Order, who must be eye-witnesses of his immorality. The charge and specifications, with the names of the witnesses signed to it, must be given to the International Board of Judges. It shall be the duty of the Chairman to call his Board together, and examine the witnesses in the presence of the I. C. G. M., or, if he refuses to attend, the Judges shall proceed with the examination. If they decide that it is a case requiring a trial, the Judges must notify the I. C. G. S. to summons five C. G. M.s or Past C.

G. M.s to try the case. The I. C. G. S. shall fix the day and date and the place of meeting, also to notify the I. C. G. M. to be present. If the I. C. G. M. is found guilty, he must be suspended and ordered to meet the Triennial Session for trial. The I. V.-G. M. takes charge of the office.

SEC. 4.—If the I. C. G. M. becomes weak-minded or insane, so that he cannot attend to the duties of his office, the I. C. G. S. must notify the I. G. C. J.s, and they must meet and investigate. If they find that the I. C. G. M. is incapable of attending to the duties of the office, they shall declare the office vacant and put the I. V.-G. M. in charge.

ARTICLE XVIII.

AMENDMENTS.

SECTION 1.—The International Constitution can be amended by submitting the amendment or amendments to the International Grand Session. If said amendment or amendments are recommended by a three-fourths vote, they must be printed in the Proceedings, and submitted to every Grand Temple and Tabernacle at their First Annual Session after the said amendment or amendments have been recommended by the Triennial Session.

SEC. 2.—The Grand Temples and Tabernacles shall read the amendment or amendments in open Session, and order them printed in the Annual Grand Session Proceedings, with instructions that each Temple and Tabernacle call a special meeting to act on the amendment or amendments.

SEC. 3.—When a Temple is opened to act on the amendments, the amendment or amendments should first be carefully read, and then put to a vote. The

C. S. shall thereupon record the names of the members who voted for or against the amendment or amendments, and shall forward the result to the C. G. S.

SEC. 4.—Tabernacles shall proceed in the same manner as Temples in regard to the reading of and voting for the amendment or amendments, only that the C. R. shall record each member who voted yes or no, and shall forward the result to the C. G. S.

SEC. 5.—The C. G. S. shall report to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle Session the vote of each Temple and Tabernacle. If three-fourths of the Temples and Tabernacles approve of the amendment or amendments, and the Grand Session recommends the adoption by a two-thirds vote, the C. G. S. shall forward the entire vote cast to the I. C. G. S. If there is not the required number of Temples and Tabernacles voting for the adoption of the same, the C. G. S. shall inform the I. C. G. S. that the amendment or amendments are rejected by the Grand Temple and Tabernacle for the State of ———.

SEC. 6.—The I. C. G. S. shall report the vote from all the Grand Temples and Tabernacles to the Triennial Session. If seven-eighths of the Grand Temples and Tabernacles approve the amendment or amendments, the I. C. G. M. shall announce that the amendment or amendments have been regularly adopted, and are a part of the International Constitution. If they have not been approved by the required number, the I. C. G. M. shall declare that the amendment or amendments have been rejected.

ARTICLE II.

GRAND TEMPLES AND TABERNACLES.

SECTION 1.—A Grand Temple and Tabernacle of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor can be organized within the boundaries of any State or Territory of the United States, also in any State, Province or country in the civilized world.

SEC. 2.—Grand Temples and Tabernacles cannot be organized with less than forty organizations, composed of chartered and warranted Temples, Tabernacles, Tents and Palatiums.

SEC. 3.—The Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents are required to pay the expenses for organizing a Grand Temple and Tabernacle within the boundaries of their State or Province.

SEC. 4.—When a State, Territory or Province has forty organizations, composed of Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents, within its boundaries, a Grand Temple and Tabernacle must be organized. Two or more States adjoining each other may, for the convenience of their organizations, unite in forming a Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

SEC. 5.—It is the duty of an International Deputy, living within the boundaries of a State, Territory or Province that has not organized, to inform the I. C. G. M. when there is a lawful number of Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents within those boundaries willing to organize a Grand Temple and Tabernacle. The International Grand Chief Mentor, when he receives this information, shall notify the Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents to prepare to organize. He is required to give them at least three months to prepare for organizing a Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

SEC. 6.—The International Chief Grand Mentor may give a dispensation to organize a Grand Temple or Tabernacle with less than forty organizations, if he is satisfied that it will be for the best interests of the International Order of Twelve.

ARTICLE III.

POWER AND AUTHORITY.

SECTION 1.—A Grand Temple and Tabernacle shall have power and authority over all Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents within the boundaries of the State, Territory or Province in which it is organized.

SEC. 2.—A Grand Temple and Tabernacle shall have authority to organize Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in any State, Territory, Province or country in the civilized world, where there is no Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and have jurisdiction over all of its organizations until a Grand Temple and Tabernacle is organized.

SEC. 3.—A Grand Temple and Tabernacle shall have authority to enact laws and rules for its government (but not to conflict with the International General Laws), grant charters and warrants, suspend or revoke charters and warrants for cause, receive and hear appeals, redress grievances and complaints arising in Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums or Tents, and to provide for its support and government.

SEC. 4.—A Grand Temple and Tabernacle shall have an Annual Grand Session. A Special Grand

Session can be called by the Chief Grand Mentor at any time, if he finds it is necessary or when he is requested to call a special Grand Session by two-thirds of the Temples and Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents.

SEC. 5.—Grand Temples and Tabernacles shall have exclusive jurisdiction within the boundaries of the State, Territory or Province in which they are organized, provided they do not conflict with the International General Laws.

SEC. 6.—When a Grand Temple and Tabernacle organizes in any State, Territory or Province where there is no Grand Temple and Tabernacle, their organization does not give them exclusive jurisdiction over the State, Territory or Province; their jurisdiction extends only to their organization, other Grand Temples and Tabernacles have the same right to organize Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in the same State, Territory or Province, and have jurisdiction over their own organizations.

ARTICLE IV.

APPEALS.

SECTION 1.—Members who have been suspended or expelled, and think that they have not received justice, have the right to appeal to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle Session.

SEC. 2.—The method of making out an appeal is as follows: First, give the day and date of the trial, and the name and number of the Temple or the Tabernacle; second, give the character of the offense upon which the charge and specifications are based; third, state the reason why you appeal; fourth, tell in what manner you were unjustly sentenced; and, fifth, give the names of witnesses. If it is a Temple, a copy of the appeal must be filed with the Chief Scribe; if a Tabernacle, with the Chief Recorder. The appellant must retain a copy. The appeal must be filed with the C. G. S. within ten days after the trial.

SEC. 3.—The C. S. or C. R. who receives an appeal must retain a copy, and forward the original appeal to the C. G. S.

SEC. 4.—When the Grand Session assembles, the C. G. S. must read the appeal in open Session, and the C. G. M. shall refer the same to the Board of Grand Judges.

SEC. 5.—The Grand Judges shall examine the complaint in the appeal and the witnesses, and deliver their decision to the Grand Session. If adopted by a majority vote, their decision is sustained.

SEC. 6.—If the appellant is not satisfied, an appeal can be taken to the Triennial Grand Session, by giving notice to the C. G. S. within ten days after the Grand Session closes. The C. G. S. must forward a copy of the appeal, with the other papers pertaining to the same, to the I. C. G. S.

SEC. 7.—When the Triennial Grand Session assembles, the I. C. G. S. shall read the appeal, and the other papers that accompany it, in open Session. The I. C. G. M. shall refer the appeal and papers to the International Board of Grand Judges, who shall investigate and examine witnesses, and render their decision to the Session. If adopted, it settles the matter. If a majority refuse to adopt the decision, the Triennial Session shall dispose of the appeal by a majority vote.

ARTICLE V.

ANNUAL SERMONS.

SECTION 1.—The International Order of Twelve, by the teachings of its Constitutions and Degrees, shows the belief of its members in the Lord God, the Supreme Ruler of Heaven and Earth. It is but right and just that the Knights and Daughters of Tabor should set apart one Sunday in each year to unite their voices in prayer and thanks that He has preserved our Order.

SEC. 2.—The third Sunday in the month of June of each year is hereby fixed as the day for the Knights and Daughters of Tabor to assemble and have an Annual Sermon preached. The members of Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents are required to meet together that day, and make a united service to God.

SEC. 3.—The members can turn out in full regalia, or in undress regalia, as may be decided by their various Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents.

SEC. 4.—In large cities, where the members are too numerous to all meet in one church, they can divide and hold the services in two churches of different denominations at the same hour.

ARTICLE VI.

SEC. 1.—Every Grand Temple and Tabernacle must formulate a plan for building halls, and insist that the Temples and Tabernacles working under its jurisdiction build or buy a suitable hall to hold their meetings in.

SEC. 2.—Every Grand Temple and Tabernacle must know that all Temples and Tabernacles take care of their sick, distressed or disabled members, and that the weekly benefits are paid regularly.

SEC. 3.—Every Grand Temple and Tabernacle must impress on the members that, when they start on a journey, they must take traveling certificates and monthly cards from Temples or Tabernacles, to show that they are in good standing, and warn all Temples and Tabernacles that they must not receive strangers without their certificates, cards and Quarterly Pass.

HALLS.

The halls used by the Knights and Daughters of Tabor must be dedicated within three months after they are occupied. Secret meetings in private houses are positively prohibited.

INTERNATIONAL DEPUTIES.

1. The business of the International Deputies is to organize Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in any part of the civilized world.

2. When they make an organization, they shall report that organization, if it is within the borders of a Grand Temple and Tabernacle, to the Chief Grand Mentor for a charter.

3. When they make an organization in any State, Territory or Province, where there is no Grand Temple and Tabernacle organized, the Deputy shall report to the International Grand Chief for a charter.

4. An International Deputy Grand Mentor must be a member in good standing in a Temple of the Knights of Tabor, and is amenable to the laws the same as any other member. When his membership ceases, his commission is revoked.

5. An International Grand Deputy must be a member in good standing in a Tabernacle of Saba Meroe Priestesses, and is amenable to the laws the same as any other member. When her membership ceases, her commission is revoked.

6.—International Deputies, or Past International Deputy Knights or Daughters, shall be members of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle as long as they remain in good standing in a Temple or Tabernacle.

INTERNATIONAL DISTRICTS.

The International Grand Chief may, for the convenience of the members, organize and arrange International Districts. These Districts shall not conflict with the Grand Temples and Tabernacles, or prevent them from making organizations in such Districts. The Districts shall be represented in the Triennial Grand Session by their District Grand Mentor and District Grand Preceptress. These Districts shall be required to conform to the Laws and Rules of the International Order of Twelve.

SUSPENSIONS AND EXPULSIONS.

When a member is suspended or expelled from a Temple or Tabernacle by due process of law, the

- 3.—Presiding Princes and Past Presiding Princes.
- 4.—Vice-Princesses and Past Vice-Princesses.
- 5.—Queen Mothers and Past Queen Mothers.
- 6.—Deputy Grand Mentors and Past Deputy Grand Mentors.
- 7.—Deputy Grand Preceptresses and Past Deputy Grand Preceptresses.

To continue their membership in the Grand Temples and Tabernacles, they must be and remain members in good standing in their Temples or Tabernacles.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The only department in the International Order of Twelve that has the authority to make honorary members is the Temples and Tabernacles, and they are permitted under the following instructions to honor a member of their Temple or Tabernacle: First, the member to receive this honor must be an old member, for years in good standing, and one who has been active in building up the Order. If a Temple desires to invest one of their members with this honor, it will require a unanimous vote of all the members who are present at a regular meeting. If a Tabernacle desires to honor a Daughter who is a member of their Tabernacle, it can be done by a unanimous vote of all the members present at a regular meeting. An honorary member is entitled to all the benefits and privileges of a contributing member.

THE UNITY OF THE INTERNATIONAL ORDER OF TWELVE.

The Ritualistic work of the Order is unchangeable and uniform, the same everywhere; new degrees cannot be added or new signs and tokens be given, except it is so ordered by amending the General Laws. To add to the Ritualistic work, or to make a new degree or degrees for any of the departments, will require the unanimous vote of every Temple and Tabernacle in the affirmative, and the unanimous vote of every Grand Temple and Tabernacle, when in Grand Session. The Triennial Grand Session may, when satisfactory evidence is given that it is the unanimous desire of every member of the International Order of Twelve to add new degrees, signs, words and tokens to the Ritualistic work, the Triennial Grand Session is authorized to prepare such degrees, by appointing a committee to draft the degrees, signs, words or tokens, and submit their work to the next Triennial Grand Session; then, if approved by the unanimous vote of the Triennial Grand Session, said degree or degrees, signs, words and tokens shall be lawful.

FULL UNIFORM.

Within three months after the Uniform Rank of Tabor or the Fourth Degree in the Temple is conferred, the member must have his full uniform, as follows: Helmet, sword and belt, gloves and gauntlets, cap, cup and badges. A Knight failing to comply with this law, shall be and stand suspended until he has his full uniform. If a C. M. fails to enforce this law, the C. G. M. is authorized to remove him from office and appoint another C. M. This law is to be enforced when the Temple is one year old. The members of every Temple that is one year old must have their full uniform.

777—THE ORGANIZATION—333.

The International Order of Twelve, of Knights and Daughters of Tabor, was organized in the City of Independence, State of Missouri, August the 12th, A. D. 1872. This is the birthday of the Order, and is hereby set apart as the proper day to celebrate. It is the Taborian day—a day to be remembered.

INSTALLATION
INTERNATIONAL GRAND OFFICERS.

FULL CEREMONIES.

INSTALLING CEREMONY OF INTERNATIONAL GRAND OFFICERS.

—:O:—

The installing ceremony is performed by a Past International Chief Grand Mentor, or a Present or Past Chief Grand Mentor.

When the time arrives to install, the I. G. Drill-Master (or Marshal, who is appointed for that occasion) receives the Jewels, or badges of office from each officer, and places them on the altar. The Marshal forms the officers elected and appointed in a semi-circle around the altar, the International Chief and International Preceptress elect in the center of the circle, and the other officers on each side of them, according to the roll of office. The band plays until the installing ceremony is ready to commence.)

The Marshal salutes the installing Grand Officer, and says: Sir Grand, I have the high honor of presenting to you these Sir Knights and Daughters of Tabor, who have been regularly elected to fill the several offices in the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle of the International Order of Twelve for the ensuing term. I also present to you the appointed officers; they all have signified their readiness to enter upon their official duties.

The Installing Grand to Marshal:—Sir Marshal, please form the Sir Knights and Daughters in a circle around these elected and appointed officers. (A double circle is formed, the Daughters forming the inner and the Knights the outer circle.)

Sir Grand to the officers elect:—Sir Knights and Daughters of Tabor, you have been honored by receiving the suffrage of the members of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle; you have been elected to the highest offices that are in the gift of the International Order of Twelve. We are here to invest and entrust to your care the responsibility of conducting the business and work of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor. The honor, stability and perpetuity of the Order are to be placed in your charge. I admonish you to vigilantly guard every avenue, and be ready to meet and repel any danger that would deter or obstruct our Order in fulfilling its mission for the benefit of mankind. It becomes my duty to administer to you an obligation that all International Grand Officers have taken before they were installed. If you are willing and ready, place your right hands on your hearts and repeat your full names, and say after me:

OBLIGATION.

I, ———, do solemnly promise that I will defend and support the International Constitution and General Laws of the International Order of Twelve. I will faithfully attend to the duties of the office that I am about to be installed in.—In Solo Deo Salus!

The Grand :—Sir Knights, uncover; let us Knights and Daughters unite in prayer with the Grand Orator.

PRAYER.

Almighty and Everlasting God, in the name of Jesus, Thine Only Begotten Son, our Savior, we come unto Thee. We confess our many sins and omissions of duty unto Thee, Thou who art full of mercy and love to mankind, and have given to us the inestimable privilege of coming unto Thee at all times to plead for pardon and forgiveness. Hear us at this hour and let the light of Thy Godly Presence illumine our hearts, and in the name of Jesus fit us and prepare us that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. We come to Thee, our Heavenly Father to ask Thy blessings for the members of the International Order of Twelve, wherever they are dispersed around the world. In an especial manner bless these Knights and Daughters of Tabor that are about to be invested with the governing power of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle. Oh Lord, endow them with wisdom, that they may be enabled to carry forward the business of the Order to Thy honor and glory, and for the best interests of its members and for the benefit of humanity. Direct us in all our ways, and prosper the work of the Order in the hands of these Grand Officers. May Thy Godly and Fatherly care and protection accompany us all through life. This we humbly beg, in the name of Thy Exalted Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, Redeemer and Savior.—In Solo Deo Salus!

ARTICLE VIII.

DUTIES OF GRAND OFFICERS.

SECTION 1.—The Chief Grand Mentor shall preside at all Sessions of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. He shall have authority to call Special Sessions when he decides it is needed, or when requested to call a Session by a two-thirds of the Temples and Tabernacles. He must enforce the laws, decide all questions of law or points of order, and appoint officers pro-tem. in case of the absence or disqualification of the officer elected or regularly appointed. He can give permission, by dispensation, to Temples, Tabernacles and Palatiums, to reduce the constitutional fee for receiving members for thirty, sixty or ninety days. He can give dispensations for public turn-outs and entertainments, and for Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents to continue work when their charters or warrants are lost. He can grant a charter or warrant upon proof that they are destroyed or lost. He can organize Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in person, or by commissioned Deputies. He can constitute new Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents by charter or warrants. He can install the officers, dedicate halls and lay cornerstones, either in person or by deputy. He can visit Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents at any time when he deems it necessary. He must appoint all committees not otherwise ordered. He must open and close the Grand Session without a motion. He must issue the Quarterly Pass to all Temples and Tabernacles. He must make an annual report to the Grand Session of the condition of all the Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents. He must sign all warrants and other papers that require his signature to make them legal.

SEC. 2.—He must furnish new Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents with charters or warrants, and books and blanks. He must report monthly, to the C. G. S., the names and numbers of all new Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents, with the names and addresses of the C. M., C. P., P. P. and Q. M., and with the monthly report he must pay to the C. G. S. all moneys that he has received for charters, warrants, books and blanks.

SEC. 3.—He can suspend a Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium and Tent, if he decides it is necessary for the good of the order. He can revoke the suspension at any time, or order them to meet the Grand Session for trial.

SEC. 4.—He can suspend a Chief Mentor, Chief Preceptress, Presiding Prince or a Queen Mother when a grave charge is made against either by two-thirds of their members, and order them to trial either before a committee of peers or before the Grand Session. In the event that a presiding officer is suspended, the C. G. M. must fill the vacancy by appointment; provided, there is no Vice to fill it.

SEC. 5.—He can give the Degrees of the Temple, Tabernacle and Palatium to any distinguished person or persons at will, and have them enrolled as members in any Temple, Tabernacle or Palatium within the boundaries of his State and jurisdiction.

tion and prospects of the Order. The commissions of Deputy Grand Preceptresses must have her signature to make them legal. It is her duty to make a full report to the Grand Session, annually, of her official business, and with the report make such recommendations as she believes to be for the best interests of the Order, and the success of Tabernacles.

VICE-GRAND MENTOR.

SEC. 11.—In the absence of the C. G. M. and the C. G. P., the Vice-Grand Mentor shall preside over the business of the Grand Session. In case of the death, mental inability or removal out of the State and jurisdiction, or lawful disqualification of the C. G. M. during the interim between the Grand Sessions, the V.-G. M. shall attend to all the official business of the C. G. M., until another is duly elected and installed.

VICE-GRAND PRECEPTRESS.

SEC. 12.—It shall be the duty of the Vice-Grand Preceptress to perform the duties of the C. G. P. in the absence of that officer from the Grand Session; and in case of the death or lawful disqualification of the C. G. P. during the time between the Grand Sessions, the V.-G. P. must attend to all the business of the C. G. P., until another is duly elected and installed.

CHIEF GRAND SCRIBE.

SEC. 13.—The Chief Grand Scribe shall have the custody and control of the records of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and preserve all official papers; he shall also have authority to provide his office with all necessary books and stationery to enable him to perform his duties; he shall keep a journal of the business of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and the proceedings of the Grand Session; he shall keep a register of all Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents, with date of charter and warrant, name of the town or city, county and State where they are situated; he shall keep a record of all members of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle; he shall keep in his office a copy of the seal of each subordinate Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium and Tent; he shall receive and give notice to all the subordinate Temples and Tabernacles of all rejected candidates, and of members that have been suspended or expelled; he shall attend to and carry on the correspondence of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and give notice to the Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents when and where to meet the Grand Session; he shall perform such other duties as are assigned to him by the Grand Temple and Tabernacle; he shall receive all moneys coming to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and pay them over to the Chief Grand Treasurer without delay, taking his receipt therefor; draw all warrants on the Grand Treasurer, and attest them; keep his accounts ready for examination at any time; he shall, at the expiration of his term of office, deliver to his successor all books, papers, warrants, charters, rituals, blanks and other property belonging to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

CHIEF GRAND RECORDER.

SEC. 14.—It is the duty of the C. G. R. to assist the C. G. S. in taking the proceeding of the Grand Session, and to help him in arranging the proceedings for the printer, and to attend to such other business as may be assigned to her by the Grand Session.

CHIEF GRAND TREASURER.

SEC. 15.—It shall be the duty of the Chief Grand Treasurer to receive all moneys and valuables belonging to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and keep a correct account of the same; he shall pay all warrants when duly signed by the Chief Grand Mentor, and countersigned by the Chief Grand Scribe; he shall make an annual report to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle of the business of his office; his books shall be open for the inspection of the Chief Grand Mentor, or any committee that he may appoint, at all times; he shall give to the Chief Grand Scribe a receipt for all moneys he receives; his books shall show the amount of moneys received and paid out; he shall give a statement, in writing, at the Grand Session, exhibiting the amounts of his receipts and the amounts of his disbursements, and for what purpose the money was drawn; at the expiration of his term of office he shall deliver all books, papers and moneys belonging to the Temple and Tabernacle to his successor.

GRAND QUEEN MOTHER.

SEC. 16.—It shall be the duty of the Grand Queen Mother to correspond with all the Queen Mothers in the State and jurisdiction, and receive their reports of the condition of their Tents, with the number of children in each Tent. It is her duty to visit a Tent when requested by the Queen Mother, and give needed instructions. It is also her duty to report annually to the International Grand Queen Mother the number of Tents, with the number of children in the Tents. She shall report to the Grand Session, and make any recommendation that will be for the good of the Tents. She is authorized to organize Tents, and install the Officers of Tents of Maids and Pages of Honor.

CHIEF GRAND ORATOR.

SEC. 17.—It shall be the duty of the Chief Grand Orator to lead the devotional exercises of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and perform the functions of a Chaplain on all public and private occasions. It is his duty to preach the sermon at the Annual Grand Session.

CHIEF GRAND PRIESTESS.

SEC. 18.—It shall be the duty of the Chief Grand Priestess to assist the Chief Grand Orator during the opening and closing of the Grand Session.

GRAND DRILL-MASTER.

SEC. 19.—It shall be the duty of the Grand Drill-Master to conduct the drill exercises during the Grand Session, and to act as Marshal in the public turn-outs of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. He must arrange the hall for the Grand Session, and shall give instructions to the Chief Drill-Masters of Temples, when requested.

GRAND INNER SENTINEL.

SEC. 20.—It is the business of the G. I. St. to have charge of the Inner Door of the Grand Session, and to admit none but members who are properly clothed and have the Pass. She must report to the Vice-Grand Mentor the names of all who desire admittance.

GRAND COLOR BEARER.

SEC. 21.—It shall be the duty of the Grand Color Bearer to guard and protect the banner of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and to unfurl and carry it on all public turn-outs of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

CHIEF GRAND SENTINEL.

SEC. 22.—The Chief Grand Sentinel shall have charge of the outer entrance of the Grand Session. He shall admit none but members of the Order during the Session. He is to inspect all who seek admission, and see that they are properly clothed and have the proper Pass.

CHIEF GRAND GUARDS.

SEC. 23.—It is the duty of the Chief Grand Guards to assist the Presiding Grand Officer in keeping order during the Grand Session. They are the messengers of the Grand Session, and shall attend to any business entrusted to them, under the orders of the Presiding Grand Officer.

CHIEF GRAND JUDGES.

SEC. 24.—The Board of Chief Grand Judges shall consist of seven members—four Daughters and three Sir Knights—whose duty it is to examine all complaints and charges that come before the Grand Session. They shall investigate the charges and complaints when referred to them by the Grand Session. They have authority to call witnesses before them for examination. The C. G. S. must place in the hands of this Board all the papers and documents relating to any case coming before them. This Board shall investigate all appeals and grievances that come before the Grand Session, and report to the Grand Session their findings in all charges, complaints, appeals and grievances. The first named on the Board is the Chairman. The Board organizes by electing a Secretary.

CHIEF GRAND TRIBUNES.

SEC. 25.—It is the business of the Chief Grand Tribunes to assist the Chief Grand Guards in keeping order during the Grand Session, and to attend to the duties of messengers, under the direction of the Presiding Grand Officer.

ARTICLE IX.

BOARD OF GRAND CURATORS.

SECTION 1.—The Board of Grand Curators shall consist of the Chief Grand Mentor, Chief Grand Preceptress, Chief Grand Scribe, Chief Grand Recorder and Chief Grand Treasurer. They shall be the incorporators of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. The incorporation shall be held in their name. All donations, devises or gifts for the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, or for the benefit of any subordinate Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums or Tents shall be made to them. They shall invest in such stocks, loans or securities, the funds of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, as the Grand Session may direct. They shall call in, sell and realize on such loans, stocks and investments, under the orders of the Grand Session; collect interest, dividends, rents and all money arising or accruing from any investments belonging to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle; pay all money that they collect to the C. G. S., or, if for the benefit of a subordinate Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium or Tent, they shall pay to the C. S., C. R., P. P. or Q. M. The C. G. M. shall be Chairman of the Board. The Grand Temple and Tabernacle shall furnish the Board with such books and stationery as they may need. They shall make an annual report to the Grand Session of all their business, and, at the expiration of their term of office, shall deliver to their successors all books, securities, deposits, stocks, papers, deeds and moneys belonging to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, or to Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents.

ARTICLE X.

TRUSTEES.

SECTION 1.—The Vice-Grand Mentor, Grand Queen Mother, Chief Grand Orator, Chief Grand Priestess and Grand Drill-Master shall be the Trustees of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

SEC. 2.—The Trustees shall audit the accounts of the Board of Grand Curators, also the accounts of the Chief Grand Scribe and Chief Grand Treasurer, at each Grand Session, and give a full report to the Grand Session.

ARTICLE XII.

WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

SECTION 1.—A Grand Temple and Tabernacle shall create and sustain a fund for the benefit of Sir Knights' widows and orphans, and the orphans of Daughters of the Tabernacle.

SEC. 2.—The Grand Session shall, within three years after the organization of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, form and set to work this department, and place it under the control and management of the Board of Grand Curators.

SEC. 3.—The assessment, against the Knights and Daughters shall be liberal and sufficient to meet the requirements of the good name of the Order. The assessments shall be collected from each Temple and Tabernacle quarterly. Temples and Tabernacles are hereby made responsible for the non-payment of assessments of their members.

SEC. 4.—Payment to widows and orphans shall be made quarterly, in accordance with the regulations made by the Grand Session. These regulations must be carefully drawn for the government of this fund so as to insure the regular payment of the quarterly allowances for the widows and orphans, and for the collection of the assessments.

SEC. 5.—When a widow or orphan removes from the jurisdiction of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, the Board of Grand Curators can, for this reason, refuse to pay the allowance, but if they have good reasons for paying it, and consider it for the best interests of the Order, they may continue the payment.

SEC. 6.—When a widow marries, her allowance ceases. When an orphan arrives at the age of fifteen years, the allowance is discontinued.

SEC. 7.—The above is submitted to the Grand Temples and Tabernacles only as a form to draw a widows' and orphans' plan upon; provided, they prefer this to the Taborian Endowment.

SEC. 8.—All Grand Temples and Tabernacles must have some kind of a benefit—either a Widows' and Orphans' Fund, or a Taborian Endowment.

ARTICLE XIII.

GRAND TEMPLES AND TABERNACLES.

SECTION 1.—The Grand Temples and Tabernacles are hereby invested with full authority to make their own Constitutions, By-Laws and Rules for their own Government, but they are not to conflict with the International Constitution or General Laws.

SEC. 2.—Full power is given to the Grand Temples and Tabernacles to conduct their business. The International Grand Temple and Tabernacle cannot interfere with their business in any form, so long as they do not trespass upon or conflict with the International Constitution or General Laws.

ARTICLE XIV.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE GRAND TEMPLES AND TABERNACLES.

The membership of Grand Temples and Tabernacles shall be as follows:

1.—Chief Mentors and Past Chief Mentors.

2.—Chief Preceptresses and Past Chief Preceptresses.

3.—Presiding Princes and Past Presiding Princes.

4.—Vice-Princesses and Past Vice-Princesses.

5.—Queen Mothers and Past Queen Mothers.

6.—Grand Deputies and Past Grand Deputies.

ARTICLE XV.

MEMBERSHIP VOTE.

SECTION 1.—The Grand Temple and Tabernacle Constitution must arrange and state the number of votes each Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium and Tent shall have, and what shall be a Past Officer's vote.

SEC. 2.—A majority of all votes cast shall be necessary to elect a Grand Officer.

POWER, STRENGTH AND PERPETUITY.

Just as long as the International Order of Twelve holds together, it will prosper and be a blessing to its members. It is so jointed and arranged that no part can be taken out without weakening the whole fabric. It is just like a wheel. The International Grand Temple and Tabernacle is the hub, the Grand Temples and Tabernacles are the spokes, and the Constitution and General Laws are the tires that bind the Order into one compact body, and make the membership a unit. The International Order of Twelve, of Knights and Daughters of Tabor, is not a monarchy, but it is a Republic, and as it is governed by its members, it has a Central and State Government. The Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents form the State Gov-

For disobeying the laws of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, when the law does not name the penalty, the C. G. M. shall name the penalty and declare the sentence.

For disobeying or neglecting to obey the General Laws, when there is no penalty named in the law, the International Chief Grand Mentor shall name the penalty and declare the sentence.

Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents, disobeying and failing to obey an edict or the laws, shall be notified by the C. G. M. that if they do not comply with the edict or law within thirty days after notice is given by him, that he will arrest their charters and suspend their members, and fix the duration of their suspension.

The I. C. G. M. is authorized to name the penalty in case Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents, working under the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, fail to obey an edict or the laws.

Sir Grand:—Sir Knights and Daughters, you are about to be invested and inducted into the several offices of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. The responsible positions to which you have been elected and appointed by the members, shows the confidence they repose in your integrity and ability to successfully conduct the business of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor. It becomes my duty to administer to you an oath which all former Grand Officers have taken previous to being installed. Are you willing?

Answer:—We are ready.

Sir Grand:—You will now take the Manual in your right hands, place it upon your breasts, and repeat your names, and say after me:

OATH.

I ———, do sacredly promise that I will sustain the laws of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor, and the Constitution, By-Laws and Rules of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, I will attend to the duties of my office faithfully, and with all the ability I possess. Amen!

Sir Grand—(Gives three raps, all stand): Sir Knights and Daughters, we are about to commence the business of the International Order of Twelve, for another Taborian year. It is but meet and right that we should implore the blessings of God upon our work. Let us bow our heads, and unite in prayer with the Chief Grand Orator. Sir Knights, uncover.

PRAYER.

Almighty God, who, through Thine Only Begotten Son, Jesus Christ, hast overcome death, and opened unto us the gate of everlasting life, we humbly beseech Thee that, as by Thy special grace helping us, Thou dost put into our minds good desires, so by Thy continual help we may bring the same to good effect. In particular, we implore Thy grace and protection for the ensuing year. Keep us temperate in our meats and drinks, and diligent in our several callings. Grant us patience under any afflictions Thou mayest see fit to lay upon us, and let our minds always be contented with our present condition. Give us grace to be just and upright in all our dealings, quiet and peaceable, full of compassion, and ready to do good to all men, according to our abilities and opportunities. Direct us in all our ways, and prosper the works of our hands in the business of our several stations. Defend us from all dangers and adversities, and be graciously pleased to take us, and all things belonging to us, under Thy fatherly care and protection. These things, and whatever else Thou shalt see necessary and convenient to us, we humbly beg, through the merits and mediation of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. Amen!

Response.—In Solo Deo Salus!

Sir Grand:—Sir Knights, cover (he gives one rap, and all are seated.—Music or Singing.)

Grand Marshal then places the C. G. M. and C. G. P. elect in front of the altar, and says:—Sir Grand, I have the honor to present to you Sir —— ———, who has been elected C. G. M., and Daughter ———, who has been elected C. G. P. of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle for ——— and jurisdiction. They are now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND MENTOR.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Sir, the evident love you have for our beloved Order, and your intimate acquaintance with the duties of every department to work the laws, rules and regulations of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, makes it unnecessary that I should repeat them at this time. The high honor of this office has its weighty responsibilities. Your authority will be respected by every true Knight and Daughter; your commands and orders will meet with ready obedience. Each Taborian Knight and Daughter will cheerfully sustain you in your care over the interests of your large jurisdiction. You will feel the necessity in your daily life and actions to exemplify the excellent teachings of our beloved Order—an example that all Sir Knights will gladly follow. Be faithful to the end.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND PRECEPTRESS.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Daughter, the Sir Knights and Daughter Priestesses of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle have expressed their confidence in your ability to attend to the duties of C. G. P., and your fidelity to the Order, by electing you to the exalted position of Chief Grand Preceptress. You will find your duties and instructions in the Constitution. Be faithful to the end.

est successor of the Chief Grand Mentor. Should any unforeseen casualty happen to him, so as to prevent him from fulfilling the duties committed to his care, which the Lord forbid, you are to assume the responsibilities and functions of that office. In his presence, you are to assist him with counsel and advice. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be faithful to duty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE VICE-GRAND PRECEPTRESS.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Daughter, you have been honored by the suffrage of the Knights and Daughter Priestesses of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle with the honorable office of Vice-Grand Preceptress. You will find your duties and instruction in the Constitution. Be faithful. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Sir Marshal, please seat the V.-G. M. and V.-G. P.

The Grand Marshal then places the C. G. S. and C. G. R. in front of the altar, and says:—Sir Grand, I take pleasure in introducing to you Sir ———, who has been elected Chief Grand Scribe, and Daughter ———, who has been elected Chief Grand Recorder. They are now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND SCRIBE.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Sir, the useful and honorable station that the voice of your brother Knights and Daughters has called you to fill, shows the confidence they repose in your ability to discharge the duties of this most important office. The position is one that requires prompt action and punctuality, and a strict fidelity to matters and business appertaining to your several duties. I have no doubt but that you will use due diligence and correctness in the discharge of the important duties committed to your care, so that benefit may accrue to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and honor be awarded to you by the Sir Knights and Daughters. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be faithful to your duty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND RECORDER.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Daughter, you have been elected to the honorable office of Chief Grand Recorder by the members of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. You will find your duties and instructions in the Constitution. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be faithful to your duty. Sir Marshal, you will please seat the C. G. S. and C. G. R.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I now present to you Sir ———, who has been elected Chief Grand Treasurer.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND TREASURER.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Sir, the members of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, in their choice of you to the very responsible station of Grand Treasurer, have proved the confidence they have in your integrity and honor. The qualities that should be found in the officer that fills this position are honesty, accuracy and faithfulness. Be accurate in keeping a fair account of all receipts and disbursements, and be careful in preserving all the property and moneys that may come into your hands, with fidelity; render a just account of all your business with the Order, when called on by the proper authority. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be faithful and prompt in the discharge of the trust we now confide into your hands. Sir Marshal, please seat the C. G. T.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the honor of introducing to you Daughter ———, who has been elected Grand Queen Mother.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE GRAND QUEEN MOTHER.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Daughter, the members of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle have entrusted to your care the important office of Grand Queen Mother. You will find your duties and instructions in the Constitution. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Take care of the children of Mount Tabor. Sir Marshal, you will please seat the Grand Queen Mother.

Grand Marshall:—Sir Grand, I have the pleasure of presenting to you Sir Rev. ———, who has been elected C. G. O.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND ORATOR.

Sir Grand: — Right Faithful Sir; Reverend Brother Knight, your high calling as a Christian minister has prepared you for the duties to which you have been elected. Your official duty is of the highest importance to the Sir Knights and Daughters, and so interesting that it requires punctual attendance at all meetings of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. May you be thoroughly furnished and abundantly provided for the good work. May you be established and perfected in your holy order by Him who presides and rules over the destinies of Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Daughter, you have the high honor of being elected by the members of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle to the important station of Grand Inner Sentinel. You will find your duties and instructions in the Constitution. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office and Staff of Defense. Guard the inner door faithfully. Sir Marshal, please seat the G. I. St.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I present to you Sir ———, who has been appointed G. C. B.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE GRAND COLOR BEARER.

Sir Grand:—Faithful Sir, your appointment to the very important position of Grand Color Bearer shows the confidence that is placed in your courage and ability. You will find your duties in the Constitution. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office, and give into your care the Standard of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. Sir Marshal, please seat the Grand Color Bearer.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I now present to you Sir ———, who has been appointed C. G. St.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND SENTINEL.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Sir, the responsibility of the station to which you have been appointed —that of Chief Grand Sentinel—cannot be overestimated. Holding the outpost, and guarding the entrance of our sacred Grand Temple and Tabernacle, I admonish you to be vigilant and sleepless. Look well to every avenue of approach. May you have courage to keep every enemy at bay. Be kind and courteous to all Sir Knights and Daughters who hail the outer portals. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be thou faithful as a watchman upon the outer lines, and give timely warning of any approaching danger. Sir Marshal, please seat the C. G. St.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I now present to you Sir Knights (gives all their names), who have been appointed C. G. G.s

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND GUARDS.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Sirs, you having been appointed to the station of Chief Grand Guards, I congratulate you upon the trust that is reposed in your worthiness to attend to the important duties pertaining to your office. You will, therefore, be punctual in the observance of the several official duties of the station, by which you will merit the approval of your brother members, and the honorable commendation of all Sir Knights and Daughters. I now invest you with the Jewels of your office. Be faithful to every duty. Sir Marshal, please seat the Chief Grand Guards.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the honor of presenting to you Daughters (gives all their names), who have been appointed C. G. Te.s

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND TRIBUNES.

Sir Grand:—Right Faithful Daughters, the position that you have been appointed to requires the closest attention to your duties. The Constitution will give you full information. I now congratulate you, and invest you with the Jewels of your office. Be faithful to your trust. Sir Marshal, please seat the Chief Grand Tribunes.

Grand Marshal:—Sir Grand, I now present to you Sir Knights and Daughters (gives all their names), who have been appointed C. G. J.s

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GRAND JUDGES.

Sir Grand:—Sir Knights and Daughters, the office that you have the honor of being appointed to is one of great importance, and requires a close study of the laws that govern the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. You will find your duties in the Constitution. I now invest you with the Jewels of your office. Be faithful to your official duties. Sir Marshal, please seat the Chief Grand Judges.

Music or Singing.

Sir Grand gives three raps, and all stand, except the officers that have just been installed.

Grand Marshal says:—Sir Knights, Daughter Priestesses, Princes and Princesses, Maids and Pages of Honor, Hear! Listen!! and Receive the Proclamation!!!

PROCLAMATION.

Sir Grand says:—By virtue of the authority in me vested as Installing Grand Officer, I now and here proclaim that the Grand Officers of the Grand estly strive to keep it so, I have no doubt. I ask you to put your trust in the Lord of Hosts. He is a tower of strength. By the faithful discharge of your several duties, you will receive the hearty approval of the Sir Knights and Daughters. May God, the giver of every good and perfect gift, guide and direct you in your labor of love. Take the shield of faith and the sword of the spirit, and the breast-plate of righteousness, which is the command of God. May peace and harmony, and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, be with you all forever. Amen!

TEMPLE OFFICERS' JEWELS—SILVER.

TABORIAN ALTAR.

INSTALLATION CEREMONY OF TEMPLE OFFICERS.

The installation of the officers of a Temple can be performed either in public or private. Any C. M. or P. C. M., C. G. M. or P. C. G. M. shall have authority to install the officers.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

The Knights assemble in their hall. The Temple is opened in the Fourth Degree. The necessary preparations are made, and instructions given. After which the C. D.-M. forms the procession in marching order, the Knights being in full dress and regalia. If a Grand Officer or a Past Grand Officer is present, proper respect must be paid to him or them.

THE MARCH

Shall be in the usual form, to the place where the ceremony is to be performed.

The procession is marched three times around the hall, the ranks are opened, and the officers are escorted through to the platform.

The Chief Mentor calls up the Knights and Daughters, and the Sir Chief announces the business that is to be transacted, and states that the duties that devolve upon the officers about to be installed are so important, that it is of the greatest concern that the guidance and blessing of our King, the Mighty Jehovah, remain with them. Our Chief Orator will now address the Almighty Father, our Sovereign Commander, in prayer.

PRAYER.

O Lord, Thy mercy, our sure hope,
 The highest orb of heaven transcends;
 Thy sacred truth's unmeasured scope
 Beyond the spreading sky extends.

Thy justice, like the hills, remains;
 Unfathom'd depths Thy judgments are;
 Thy providence the World sustains;
 The whole creation is Thy care.

Direct us, O Lord, in all our doings, with Thy most gracious favor, and further us with Thy continual help, that in all our works begun, continued, and ended in Thee, we may glorify Thy Holy Name, and finally by Thy mercy obtain everlasting life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who hath taught us to pray unto Thee, O Almighty Father, in His prevailing name and words. Amen! Amen!!

All are seated. Music; or the following hymn is sung.

THE THREE MOUNTAINS.

I.

When on Sinai's top I see
 God descend in majesty,
 To proclaim His holy law,
 All my spirits sink with awe,

When in ecstasy sublime
 Tabor's glorious mount I climb,
 In the too transporting light,
 Darkness rushes o'er my sight.

II.

When on Calvary I rest,
 God in flesh made manifest
 Shines in my Redeemer's face,
 Full of beauty, truth and grace;
 Here I would forever stay,
 Weep and gaze my soul away.
 Thou art heaven on earth to me,
 Lovely, mournful Calvary.

The Chief Drill-Master, under the instructions of the Sir Chief, forms all the Sir Knights that are to be installed in line in front of the stage, and says:—Faithful Sir, I have the honor to present to you the officers elect of ——— Temple, No. —. They are now ready to be installed.

The Sir Chief will draw his sword, and order the officer elect to draw and lay the sword across their breast, with the point resting on the side of the left shoulder, the left hand on the right breast, and repeat the following

OATH OF OFFICE.

I, ———, do most solemnly and sincerely promise, upon the word of a Taborian Knight, that I will, to the best of my ability, faithfully discharge and fulfill the duties of the office to which I have been elected. I will support and maintain the Constitution, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations of this Temple, and the Constitution and By-Laws, and Regulations and Edicts of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and the Constitution and General Laws of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

INSTRUCTIONS.

The Sir Chief then says:—Sir Knights, you having been elected to the important and responsible duties of the several offices in this Temple, we with pleasure enter upon the duty of installing you, believing that you will attend to the interests of the Temple, and conduct the business of your stations with fidelity. You will study to improve the usefulness of our Order, realizing the importance of the trust that is committed to your care by your confiding brethren. A firm reliance on the teachings, as you find them laid down in our laws, and the practice of those virtues that are inculcated in our rites, and an implicit confidence in the Lord of Lords, will so direct you in the relation in which you are about to be inducted, that you will reflect honor upon your Temple and credit to yourselves.

THE CHARTER.

The charter is presented, and read by the C. O., and its powers explained by the Sir Chief. The Sir Knights are seated, and the C. D.-M. introduces the C M: elect to be installed.

The C. D.-M. says:—Faithful Sir, I take pleasure in presenting to you Sir Knight ———, who has been elected to the office of Chief Mentor of ——— Temple, No. —. He is prepared for installation. (His sword, cap and jewel are laid on the altar.)

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF MENTOR.

in a regular Temple, nor one who has been expelled or suspended?

Ans.—I will.

Ques.—Do you acknowledge that it is impossible to have intercourse with a Temple that does not work under a charter from the Grand Temple and Tabernacle of the International Order of Twelve?

Ans.—I do.

Ques.—Do you believe that every Sir Knight has a right to his religious opinion, and that you will promise not to permit any denominational discussions in the Temple?

Ans.—I do.

Ques.—Will you support the Constitution, Rules, Regulations and Ritualistic work of the Ladies' Tabernacle?

Ans.—I will.

Ques.—Will you be careful upon whom you confer the degrees, so that our Order may be composed of good and true men only?

Ans.—I will.

Ques.—Will you bind your successor in office to observe the same test that you have taken?

Ans.—I will. So help me God!

The Sir Chief then proceeds as follows:—You will now permit me to cover your head with this helmet, and present to you this sword. Its hilt in your hand reminds you that it is only to be drawn in defense of liberty, equality and innocence. The Jewel of your office I now invest you with. It is composed of three perfect numbers. It is an appropriate emblem of our Order. It will continually remind you of the great principles upon which our Order is perpetuated. I commit to your care the charter of this Temple. You will carefully guard it as a sacred power and authority that makes your Temple legal. You will also transmit it to your successor in office. I present to you the Constitution, the great instructor of the Knights. Open this book in faith, and follow its teachings without faltering or wavering, and you will exert an influence that will be an honor to yourself and a blessing to the Knighthood. The Constitution of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle is hereby presented to you, with the Constitution, Rules and Regulations of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. I admonish you to consult them diligently, and cause them to be read in your Temple frequently, so that all Sir Knights may be informed of their duty. I now seat you in the official chair. May the Lord, our King, protect and keep you in the strict performance of your official duty.

THE SALUTE AND WELCOME.

The Sir Chief then says:—Sir Knights, I present to you your Chief.

(The Knights rise, and present swords; salute, and return swords.)

Let us welcome our Chief.

(The Knights and Daughters give the honors, and repeat the words “We welcome,” three times, and give the clap seven times, with the words “Be faithful.”)

The C. D.-M. presents the other officers in regular order, by saying:—Faithful Sir, I present Sir Knight ———, who has been elected to the office of Vice-Mentor, and is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE VICE-MENTOR.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knight ———, you have been elected to the office of Vice-Mentor of ——— Temple, No. —, and now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Your duty is to fulfill the duties of the Chief Mentor, when that officer is absent; and in his presence, you are to counsel and aid him in the government of the Temple. You will now be seated, and may you faithfully perform your duty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF SCRIBE.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knight ———, you have been honored by the suffrage of your brethren to the very responsible office of Chief Scribe. I take pleasure in presenting you with the Jewel of your office. It is your duty to keep the books of the Temple, as also the records and the roll of members. You shall keep a regular account with each member, and collect all dues, fines and other moneys belonging to the Temple, and pay them into the treasury. You shall record the doings of each meeting plainly and neatly, and report to the Temple, when called on, the condition of the treasury. You shall draw all orders for money on the treasury, and see that they are signed by the C. M. and countersigned by yourself. It will be your duty to make an annual report to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, with a list of all the members. You are also required to make a monthly report to INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF ORATOR.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knight ————, you have been elected to the high position of Chief Orator of this Temple, and I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. It is your duty to conduct the devotional exercises of the Temple, to visit the sick or disabled Knights and Daughters, and to attend to the funeral ceremonies. That you may be thoroughly qualified for the work, I present you this Holy Volume. Open and read it; it will give you counsel and instruction. You will now be seated. Be faithful.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF DRILL-MASTER.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knight ————, it is with pleasure that I find that the brethren have honored you by electing you to the station of Chief Drill-Master. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office and your Implement (sword) of duty. It is your business to instruct the members in the march and drill, and the Taborian sword exercise. Your station is at the inner door, which I admonish you to guard well during the time of business. You will now be seated. Look well to your duty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF COLOR BEARER.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knight ————, I am glad to know that the suffrage of your brethren has placed you in the honorable position of Chief Color Bearer of this Temple. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. I also present you the Standard. It is the Banner of our Order. You will carefully keep it, and defend it in the time of danger. It is your duty to carry it on all public occasions, and in all processions. You will now be seated. Guard well the Banner.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF GUARDS.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knights, you have been elected to the office of Chief Guards, and the responsibility of the position requires your constant attendance at the meetings. I now invest you with the Jewels of your office. It is your duty to assist the Chief Mentor in giving the several degrees, and to preserve order during the session of the Temple. You will now be seated. Be faithful to every duty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHIEF SENTINEL.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knight ———, you have been elected to attend to the responsible duties of Chief Sentinel, and I now invest you with the Jewel of office. I also present to you this sword, and admonish you to use it in defending the post of duty. It is your duty to guard the outside door of the Temple, under orders of the C. M. You shall prepare and keep the Temple in proper order for the meetings. You shall receive such compensation for your services as may be awarded by the Temple. You will now be seated. Look well to your post.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE BOARD OF ATTENDANTS.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knights, you have been appointed a Board of Attendants. It shall be the duty of the Board to have the oversight of all the members of the Temple, and report to the C. M. when a member is sick or disabled, and what attendance the member needs. Your Board shall draw and pay the sick dues; you shall notify, by order of the C. M., members who are detailed to sit up with sick or disabled members. Your Board shall arrange and prepare the funeral of a deceased Knight. Your Board shall have the oversight of Sir Knights' widows and orphans, and report their condition to the Temple at every regular meeting. Your Board shall keep a book and record its doings, and it shall be your duty to report to the Temple at the regular monthly meeting, what you have done during the month. You will now be seated. Be true to duty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE BOARD OF JUDGES.

Sir Chief:—Sir Knights, you have been appointed a Board of Judges. This is truly an important position, and one of great responsibility, and requires that you should be well acquainted with the laws of our Order. This Board shall consist of five members, who shall be appointed by the C. M. on the night he is installed. To this Board shall be referred all matters of difference between members, and all trials of members for any offense whatsoever. This Board shall hold regular meetings, and shall have the power to summons witnesses for the plaintiff and defendant, and carefully hear all sides, make up their decision, and report to the Temple through their Secretary. The Temple shall enforce their recommendation, and their action shall be final when approved by the Temple. You will now be seated. Let justice be your rule and guide.

V.

This glorious hope revives
Our courage by the way;
While each in expectation lives,
And longs to see the day.

VI.

From sorrow, toil and pain,
And sin, we shall be free;
And perfect love and friendship reign
Through all eternity.

If there is an oration to be delivered, this is the proper time. After which the Knights and Daughters may partake of refreshments, and then the Knights assemble, and march and drill. They then march to their hall, close the Temple, and disperse.

8.—If the deceased be a Grand or a Past Grand Officer, the Chief Mentor having jurisdiction will invite the Grand Officers who are present to conduct the burial services.

9.—The pall-bearers should be Sir Knights, selected by the Chief Mentor. If the deceased was a member of other secret orders, a portion of the pall-bearers can be taken from them, per agreement, they bearing a part of the funeral expenses.

10.—While the body is lying in state, there should be two or more Sir Knights on duty near the body, in full dress.

11.—The Temple of which the deceased was a member must march nearest the body. If a sojourner, then the Temple having charge of the burial shall march nearest. Where more than one Temple joins the procession, the youngest takes the lead.

12.—When other civil and military societies unite with the Knights in the burial, they shall march in front of the Knights.

13.—When the head of the procession shall arrive at the place of interment, the lines should be opened, and the Chief Mentor, or the highest officer in rank, preceded by the Chief Drill-Master, pass through, followed by the others in order, into the cemetery. On arriving at the grave or vault they open ranks, and the casket is carried through to the tomb or grave. The coffin is placed over the grave. The Knights form a circle around it, with the family at the foot, and the Chief Mentor, Chief Orator, and clergy at the head.

14.—At the church or place of worship, after the church services over the body, the Temple's services should begin, the Knights standing during the service of prayer.

15.—The procession will return to the Temple in the same order that it marched to the grave. A Temple of Knights in procession is positively under the rules of an open Temple; therefore, no Sir Knight can enter or leave the ranks without permission from the Chief Mentor, conveyed through the Chief Drill-Master.

16.—Should the Tabernacle join the procession, their carriages or vehicles will follow immediately in the rear of the family. The Daughters shall wear the same dress that they do at a Daughter's burial. In the church, their seats are to the left of the Knights. At the grave, they form around the Knights, or at the foot of the grave.

17.—When the place of worship or church is not convenient for a part of the services before going to the grave, it may be performed at a more convenient place, or at the grave.

18.—The face of the deceased should be uncovered, if possible, during the first part of the ceremony, the Chief Mentor at the head of the casket and the Chief Orator at the foot. The Sir Knights must observe and attend to every command given by the Chief Drill-Master or the Chief Mentor.

THE FUNERAL SERVICE OF SIR KNIGHTS AT THE CHURCH.

After the religious services are concluded, the Sir Knights will commence theirs. Present swords!

FIRST PART.

Chief Mentor:—Sir Knights, we are daily reminded of the great lessons of time and eternity. We are mortal. Mortality is written upon all living beings on earth. Man's days are short and fleeting. One by one we pass the gates of death. We are reminded to-day that we are born to die. The great and unfailing truth that death is sure, is demonstrated to our view at this sad and mournful hour. The door of our Temple opened to receive a messenger, and there was none to say: "By what right do you enter here?" A Brother Knight has been summoned to appear before the Grand Chief of the Universe. His light has been extinguished in the earthly Temple. He lies mute before us. No more will he meet us around the center square. His voice, so ready in giving knightly greeting, is silent. His hand cannot grasp his sword in defense of innocence, justice and country. All that remains of our beloved Brother Knight is his cold, cold body, stilled in death. (The Sir Knights return swords.) Sir Knights, let us attend, while the Chief Orator reads to us from the lessons of the Holy Scriptures. May the impressions fill us with meekness and consolation, that we may be prepared when the last of earth comes to us.

Chief Orator:—O Lord, remember the faithful among the people, for the children of men fail on earth.

Response:—Remember us, O Lord!

C. O.:—There is not a just man on the earth who doeth good and sinneth not.

C. O.:—Christ died for us, whether we wake or sleep.

Res.:—Lord, save us!

C. M.:—Will the memory of our brother be forgotten among his brothers?

Res.:—We will never forget his manly form and virtues.

C. M.:—Shall his name be recorded in our Temple?

Res.:—It is recorded here (hand on heart). May he have a clear record in the heavenly Temple.

C. M.:—He was a true and trusted Knight, and has passed from life's turmoils and struggles. May his soul rest in peace!

Res.:—May he rest in peace and be happy! (The Sir Knights cover.)

C. M.:—Sir Knights, we are assembled to look upon the last of our Brother Knight. No more will our voices cheer him in this world of sorrow. No more will he meet us in our pleasant retreat—the Temple of our love on earth. Our swords cannot now shield him from danger. The Chief Sentinel's challenge will greet his ear no more. He has hailed the entrance for the last time in our Temple. To the Silent City of the Dead we all must come at last. The manliest form, the bravest heart, that surrounds this spot will be laid captive to death, and bound in the chain of mortality. But he who has been faithful to the teachings of the Chief Mentor of Salvation—the Son of Righteousness—can, by the will of the Sovereign Ruler of the Universe, claim a place in the Eternal Temple of Bliss, then mortality will only be laid aside to put on the glittering robe of eternal day, and dwell with the royal, happy company in the Temple of Eternal Light. Surely the sadness and solemnity of this occasion are most forcibly felt by all present. He who now sleeps in death was our brother Knight. With him we have met often around the hollow square; with him we have formed the sacred chain together; we have met life's trials and pleasures. He is now gone beyond our protecting care. Him whom we loved and honored, our presence here in the dress of our Order proves that we revere his memory. We are here to demonstrate our respect for his many good qualities; over his errors and faults, whatever they may have been, we cast the mantle of forgetfulness. Sir Knights, each successive death-call breaks the chain that binds us to this lower world; make us pause and reflect what will be our future. If we would meet the Grand Chief of Heaven and earth in peace and happiness, we must have a clear passport from His hand. Then, when the earthen vessel breaks, our souls will soar away to blissful rest.

Response by the Knights:—In Solo Deo Salus!

This closes the ceremony in the church. After taking a last look at the face of the deceased, the benediction is pronounced.

The Drill-Master forms the Knights; they then march out of the church to the place of interment in the same order as before.

On arriving at the place, and having formed around the grave (the casket resting over the grave), the following hymn is sung:

“My flesh also shall rest in hope.”

I.

Rest for the toiling hand,
Rest for the anxious brow,
Rest for the Weary, way-Worn feet,
Rest from all labor now.

II.

Rest for the fevered brain,
Rest for the throbbing eye;
Through these parched lips of thine no more
Shall pass the moan or sigh.

III.

Soon shall the trump of God
Give out the welcome sound,
That shakes thy silent chamber-walls,
And breaks the turf-sealed ground.

IV.

Ye dwellers in the dust,
Awake! come forth and sing;
Sharp has your frost of Winter been,
But bright shall be your spring.

V.

'Twas sown in Weakness here;
'Twill then be raised in power;
That which was sown an earthly seed,
Shall rise a heavenly flower!

The following prayer will then be made by the C. O., or an extemporaneous prayer, if preferred by him; or a clergyman may be invited to pray.

PRAYER.

Holy Lord God! Thou that presidest over the destinies of man, in this hour of sorrow we humbly lift our hearts to Thee. Thou hast mercifully proclaimed in Thy Holy Word that Thou wouldst com-commit the mortal remains of our deceased Brother. May his soul rest in peace. Earth to earth. (Cast earth on the casket.) Dust to dust. (Cast again.) Ashes to ashes. (Cast again.) Until the morn of the resurrection, when, like our risen Lord and Savior, may he break every chain and bond of death, and ascend to dwell forever in the sunshine of heavenly beams.

Res.:—So may it be. Amen! Amen!!

C. D.-M.:—Sir Knights, return swords.

The V.-M. then presents the sword of the deceased to the C. M.

The C. M. then says:—Sir Knights, you will remember that our deceased Brother Knight was taught while in life that this sword, in the hands of a true and trusty Knight, was an emblem of manly worth; in his grasp, he was to defend the innocent, protect the weak, have mercy on the fallen, and aid the distressed. Be true as steel to a Brother Knight. Obey every order given from justice, and silently admonish an erring Brother Knight. May the sword of Divine Justice open the way, and permit him to enter the blessed abode of saints and angels, and, in their company and companionship, live forever in the realms of eternal joy.

Res.:—Amen! So be it!! Amen!!!

The C. T. then presents the key to the C. O., who says:

C. O.:—This symbol of truth reminds us of Him who said: “I am the way. I am the door. No man can come unto the Father but through Me. I have the keys of death and the kingdom of heaven.” We place this upon the breast of our brother, there to remain as an evidence that he believed in the Divine Being that has power to save to the uttermost. May this hope of our brother in life safely convey his immortal soul, and admit it to the heavenly mansions, to rest forevermore.

Res.:—Bless the Father! Honor the Son!!

The C. O. casts the key into the grave. The Knights uncover, and the C. O. repeats the following prayer:—Our Father which art in heaven. Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen!

Res.:—In Solo Deo Salus!

The Knights cover, and give the farewell salute three times. Then they form the wall of steel, and sing the following, or some other hymn, or the band may play a solemn dirge:

I.

Friend after friend departs.

Who hath not lost a friend?

There is no union here of hearts

That finds not here an end;

Were this frail World our final rest,

Living or dying, none were blest.

II.

Beyond the flight of time,

Beyond this vale of death,

There surely is some blessed clime

Where life is not a breath,—

Nor life's affections transient fire,

Whose sparks fly upward to expire.

III.

There is a World above,
Where parting is unknown,—
A whole eternity of love,
Formed for the good alone;
And faith beholds the dying here,
Translated to that happier sphere.

The C. O. pronounces the benediction, the lines are formed, and they march back to their hall; and, after the business is finished, the Temple is closed.

INSTALLATION CEREMONY OF TABERNACLE OFFICERS.

—:o:—

The officers of the tabernacle may be installed either in public or private. The ceremony can be performed by any C. P., Past C. P., C. G. P., Past C. G. P., C. M., Past C. M., C. G. M., or Past C. G. M.

PUBLIC OR PRIVATE INSTALLATION.

The Daughter Priestesses assemble in a room or place near the hall or room where the installation ceremonies are to be performed, dressed in full regalia, and march in the following order to the place of installation, under the marshalship of one of the Meroes.

	Sir Knights,

The Tabernacle House is borne by four Daughters. The procession marches three times around the hall. The officers and past officers are seated on the platform, and the members and Sir Knights in front of the platform. The Tabernacle House is placed in front of the Chief Preceptress, in the center of the platform, the officers to the right and left of her.

THE CEREMONY.

Music; or, if there is no band, the following hymn is sung:

PRAISE TO GOD.

I.

Praise to God, the Great Creator;
Praise to God from every tongue;
Join my soul with every creature,—
Join the universal song.

II.

Joyfully on earth adore Him,
Till in heaven our song we raise;
Then, enraptured, fall before him,
Lost in wonder, love and praise.

III.

Praise to God, the Great Creator,—
Father, Son and Holy Ghost;
Praise Him, every living creature,
Earth and heaven's united host.

The Chief Preceptress gives three sounds, and all the Daughters and Knights stand while the following prayer is said by the C. O., or some one appointed for that purpose:

Eternal God! Eternal King!
Ruler of heaven and earth beneath!
From Thee our hopes, our comforts spring;
In Thee we live, and move, and breathe.
Thy word brought forth the flaming sun,
The changeful moon, the starry host;

In Thine appointed course they run,
 'Till in the final ruin lost.
 We lift our hearts to 'Thee,
 Thou Day-Star from on high!
 The sun itself is but Thy shade,
 Yet cheers both earth and sky.
 Oh, let Thy rising beams
 Dispel the shades of night;
 And let the glories of Thy love
 Come like the morning light!

Bless Thou the officers and members of the Tabernacle wherever they may be located, and we give Thee all honor and praise. Amen!

Res.:—In God alone is safety!

The C. P. gives one sound, and all are seated.

Music; or the following (or any other) hymn is sung:

i.

Let all the earth their Voices raise,
 To sing the choicest psalm of praise;
 To sing and bless Jehovah's name;
 His glory let the heathen know,
 His Wonders to the nations show,
 And all His saving Works proclaim.

ii.

He framed the globe, He built the sky,
 He made the shining Worlds on high,
 And reigns complete in glory there;
 His beams are majesty and light;
 His beauties, how divinely bright!
 His Tabernacle, how divinely fair!

The Meroe lights the candles and places them on the Tabernacle House, and places all the officers' jewels on a stand. The officers elect stand in a semi-circle.

Meroe:—I now proclaim the officers of ——— Tabernacle, No. —, duly installed in regular form.

The Sir Knights and Daughters give five claps, and say: “We declare!” This is given three times.
 The last time they say: “We declare the officers of ——— Tabernacle, No. —, regularly installed.”

Inst. Off. gives one sound, and all are seated.

Music or singing; after which an oration may be delivered, then they march three times around the hall, and the Tabernacle closes in the usual form, or, if in a public hall, the H. P. declares the Tabernacle at rest.

FUNERAL CEREMONIES

OF THE

DAUGHTERS OF THE TABERNACLE.

The ceremonies which are observed at Tabernacle funerals, and for the interment of the dead, are very impressive and appropriate. They are performed as an imperative, yet a sorrowful duty, and as a token of affection and respect to the memory of a departed Daughter.

DIRECTIONS.

1.—No Daughter of the Tabernacle can be buried with the formalities of the Tabernacle, unless she is a Daughter Priestess in good standing; nor without the consent of her family.

2.—The Chief Priestess, having received notice of the death of a Daughter (the deceased being a Daughter Priestess in good standing), it shall be her duty to issue orders to the Tabernacle to make preparations to attend the funeral, and extend an invitation to the Temples and other Tabernacles. (Should the family of the deceased desire to arrange for the funeral, their wishes must be complied with, and it relieves the Tabernacle from all funeral expenses.)

3.—The whole arrangement for the burial of a Daughter by the Tabernacle must be made by the High Priestess and the Meroes. The ceremonies are conducted by the C. O. or C. M. of the nearest Temple, or any Grand Officer.

4.—Whenever other societies unite with the Tabernacle in the burial of a Daughter, the body of the deceased must be in charge of the Tabernacle having jurisdiction. Other societies are permitted to perform their ceremonies, but the services of the Tabernacle must not be omitted.

5.—If a sojourner, in good standing, dies within the jurisdiction of a Tabernacle, it shall be the duty of the Tabernacle to inter her with all the formalities of the Order, or attend to sending the body to its home. Where there are two or more Tabernacles, the oldest Tabernacle has precedence, unless otherwise arranged. The Tabernacle of which the deceased sojourner was a member shall pay all funeral expenses incurred to the Tabernacle which attended to this duty.

6.—The pall-bearers shall be Sir Knights of Tabor, selected by the High Priestess.

7.—No Tabernacle can unite with other societies in the burial of a person not a Daughter or a Knight of Tabor, without a dispensation from the Chief Grand Mentor, or the consent of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle having jurisdiction.

8.—The members of the Tabernacle shall attend the funeral of a deceased Daughter either on foot or in vehicles. The H. Ps. and P. H. Ps. carry their Staffs trimmed with crape. The I. S. and O. S. carry their Rods trimmed with crape.

9.—A Sir Knight attending the funeral of a Daughter shall wear a black suit, brown gloves, and the regulation undress. The Meroes shall carry their spears. The C. M.s and P. C. M.s carry their swords trimmed with black. Should a C. G. M. or P. C. G. M. attend, the C. G.s march in their rear with swords reversed, the C. C. B., with two assistants, in front of them.

10.—When two or more Tabernacles are in procession, the Tabernacle of which the deceased was a member shall march nearest to the corpse. If the deceased member was a member of other secret societies, such society or societies shall bear a part of the funeral expenses.

THE SERVICE.

11.—The Tabernacle shall assemble at their hall, or some place that is proper near the residence of the deceased. The H. Ps. shall declare the Tabernacle opened, and announce the business that has called them together. The C. R. reads the name and age of the deceased member, how long she has been a member, the day and date of her death, and gives the date when she was interred. It shall be enrolled in the record-book.

ORDER OF MARCH.

12.—After the procession is formed, they march to the residence of the deceased member, receive repeats the following invocation, and the Daughters and Knights respond:

Chief Orator:—Almighty Father, may we realize that Thine all-pervading presence is with us; may Thy spirit perfect us in truth and obedience to Thy will.

Response:—May the Lord's will be done!

C. O.:—May we meet our Sister Daughter in the fadeless light of God's kingdom.

Res.:—Into the Lord's hands we commit our souls!

C. O.:—Behold, O Lord, we are in sorrow. O Lord, let the light of Thy countenance shine upon us in our distress. Comfort us, and turn our mourning into joy.

Res.:—The Lord will hear and answer our prayer; only trust Him!

C. O.:—Blessed is the Lord. From the rising to the setting of the sun, praise the name of the Lord.

Res.:—Give thanks unto the Lord; his mercy endureth forever!

C. O.:—Hear us, O Lord, and comfort our mourning hearts.

Res.:—The Lord will meet us in our Tabernacles!

C. O.:—Our God dwelleth in the Heavenly Tabernacle; He hears the voice of our supplications.

Res.:—May He save us all with an everlasting salvation!

The Chief Orator (or the minister, if he is a member), then reads the following prayer, the Daughters and Knights holding up their joined hands during the same:

PRAYER.

O Merciful God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the resurrection and the life; in whom whosoever believeth shall live, though he die; and whomsoever liveth and believeth in Him, shall not die eternally; who also hath taught us, by His holy Apostle St. Paul, not to be sorry, as men without hope, for those who sleep in Him. We humbly beseech Thee, O Father, to raise us from the death of sin unto the life of righteousness; that when we shall depart this life, we may rest in Him, and that at the general resurrection on the last day, we may be found acceptable in Thy sight, and receive that blessing which Thy Well-Beloved Son shall then pronounce to all who love and fear Thee, saying: “Come, ye blessed children of my Father, receive the kingdom prepared for you from the beginning of the world.” Grant this, we beseech Thee, O Merciful Father, through Jesus Christ, our Mediator and Redeemer. Amen!

Response.—In God alone is safety!

Whereupon the following hymn is sung:

I.

Dear as thou wert, and justly dear,
 We will not weep for thee;
 One thought shall check the starting tear,—
 It is, that thou art free.

II.

And thus shall faith's consoling power
 The tears of love restrain;
 Oh, who that saw thy parting hour
 Could wish thee back again!

III.

Triumphant in thy closing eye
 The hope of glory shone;
 Joy breathed in thine expiring sigh,
 When thou wert taken home.

The following exhortation is delivered by the High Priestess:

EXHORTATION.

Daughters, this solemn scene tells us that our Tabernacle has been visited by that dread messenger—Death—against whose certain entrance sentinels and closed doors offer no stay or stop. The chain of our circle has been broken, and a link is gone, never more to return. We mourn the loss of a dear companion. The dead body of our beloved Sister, M—— N——, is now before us in its narrow house. This is the last of earthly Tabernacles for her whom we have met so often in our undisturbed retreat, away from the worldly-minded, to enjoy a brief season of happiness; and now we have assembled to bid our Sister a last, long farewell. She sleeps with the unnumbered dead. The storms and calms of life have passed over her pathway. She is at rest. Her toils on earth have ended. As it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call the soul of our departed Sister from its earthly Tabernacle, may she find joy and happiness in the Tabernacles of that peaceful land where the eternal light and love of the Eternal Father, Son and Holy Spirit will shed their rays forever, and, in the company of the angelic host and the redeemed of earth, may we meet our loved Sister, to part no more. Farewell, for a little while.

I.

Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb;
 Take this new treasure to thy trust,
 And give these sacred relics room
 To slumber in the silent dust.

II.

Nor pain, nor grief, nor anxious fear,
 Invade thy bounds; no mortal woes
 Can reach the peaceful sleeper here,
 While angels watch the soft repose.

III.

So Jesus slept; God's dying Son
 Passed thro' the grave, and blest the bed:
 Rest here, blest saint, till from His throne
 The morning break, and pierce the shade.

IV.

Break from His throne, illustrious morn!
 Attend, O earth! His sovereign word:
 Restore thy trust; a glorious form
 Shall then ascend to meet the Lord!

The ceremonies may conclude with the church order for the burial of the dead, or by the following, read by the C. O.:

PRAYER.

Forasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty God, in His wise providence, to take out of this world the soul of our deceased Sister, we, therefore, commit her body to the ground—earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; looking for the general resurrection in the last day, and the life of the world to come, through our Lord Jesus Christ; at whose second coming in glorious majesty to judge the world, the earth and the sea shall give up their dead; and the corruptible bodies of those who sleep in Him shall be changed, and made like unto His own glorious body, according to the mighty working whereby He is able to subdue all things unto Himself. Amen!

The services close, and the procession returns to the place from whence it came; and after the necessary business is finished, the Tabernacle is closed.

PALATIUM

ROYAL HOUSE OF MEDIA.

This is the highest department in the International Order of Twelve. It is the Royal Social House, where the Knights and Daughter Priestesses meet as equals. The business of this House is to exert a refining influence over the members of the order.

1.—It is proposed to be a part of the International Order of Twelve, with all the rights and privileges it confers.

2.—The Grand Temples and Tabernacles must make a Code of Laws or Constitution for the Government of Palatiums.

3.—Our order is so constituted, that the benefits for members are derived from Temples and Tabernacles; however, it is optional with Palatiums whether or not they will adopt the beneficial feature.

4.—Each Palatium may, if it desires to make By-Laws, have its members pay monthly dues and to give sick or distress benefits, and to aid the Temple or Tabernacle in paying funeral expenses.

5.—The Members of the Palatiums being a part of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, they must pay grand dues, but not as much as is paid by the Temples and Tabernacles.

6.—A Palatium is divided into two departments: First, the Knightly Princes—that is, the Palatine Guards. These are to be ready to march and drill at any time. Special privileges are given to them to accumulate funds to prepare their outfits, and to get money into their treasury to pay traveling expenses when they are called to a distant point. They are permitted to have a Treasurer independent from the one of the Palatium, and shall be known as the Palatine Guards' Treasurer. They may give entertainments for the purpose of replenishing their Treasury. They must be ready when the C. G. M. orders them to meet the Grand Session for a Grand Parade.

Second, the Princesses of Media. These are the Ladies of the Palace. They shall have the same rights and privileges that the Knights have in the management of the Palatium. It is they who make the meetings of the Palatium pleasant and sociable. They shall aid the Palatine Guards in all their efforts. In a parade the Princesses shall turn out in carriages and in full dress.

7.—All Grand Officers should be members of the Palatium. This is necessary, because the Palatium is a department in the International as well as in the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and Grand Officers cannot properly attend to all their duties, unless they become members of all the various departments of the Order.

8.—The Grand Temple and Tabernacle, in making a Code of Laws for the Palatium, shall define the duties of the officers.

9.—The C. G. M. may give a dispensation allowing the Vice-Princess to preside in case the Presiding Prince is required to act as Prince Marshal.

OFFICERS OF THE PALATIUM.

- 1.—Presiding Prince, P. P.
- 2.—Vice-Princess, V.-P.
- 3.—Recording Prince, R. P.
- 4.—Assistant Princess, A. P.
- 5.—Prince Banker, P. B.
- 6.—Princess Nonna, P. N.
- 7.—Prince Clericus, P. C.
- 8.—Princess Revista, P. R.
- 9.—Prince Marshal, P. M.
- 10.—Prince Gonfalonier, P. G.
- 11.—Princess Sentina, S.
- 12.—Prince Wardship, P. W.

The officers are elected at the regular meeting in the month of March, and installed the fifth day of April, or within twenty days thereafter. The installation may be either public or private.

The installation ceremony may be performed by a Presiding Prince, Past Presiding Prince, Chief Grand Mentor, or International Deputy Grand Mentor.

INSTALLING CEREMONY
OF THE
Officers of the Palatium,
OR ROYAL HOUSE OF MEDIA.

INSTALLING CEREMONY OF THE OFFICERS OF THE PALATIUM.

—: o :—

The members of the Palatium shall assemble in their hall (or some place near to where the installation is to be held, if it is to be public). The Princes and Princesses shall appear in full dress. The P. P. declares the Palatium open for work. The Prince Marshal forms the procession. If a Grand or Past Grand Officer is present, proper respect must be shown him or her.

THE MARCH.

The procession marches around the hall four times. The ranks are opened and the officers are marched to the platform in the following order:

Tabernacle—Daughter Priestesses, in full dress.

Temple—Uniform Rank Knights, in full dress.

Grand and Past Grand Officers, in full dress.

Palatium—Princesses, in full dress.

Palatium—Palatine Guards, in full dress.

If the Maids and Pages take part in the ceremony, they shall march in front of the procession.

If there is room on the platform, the Grand and Past Grand Officers, and the C. M.s, C. P.s and Q. M.s are seated to the right and left of the officers about to be installed.

The Installing Officer shall be addressed as Sir Grand, the Presentor or Introducer as Prince Marshall.

CEREMONY.

The Prince Marshal places all the officers' Jewels on the altar.

Music; or, if there is no band, the following hymn is sung:

S. M.

I.

Through all the lofty sky,
Through all the inferior ground,
The Almighty Maker shines confessed,
And pours his blessings 'round.

II.

Each year the teeming earth,
With flowers and fruits is crowned;
And grass, and herbs, and harvests, grow,
And send their joys around.

III.

The world of waters yields
A rich supply of food,
And distant lands their treasures send
Upon the rolling flood.

IV.

To serve and bless our land
The elements conspire;
And mercies mix themselves with earth,—
With ocean, air, and fire.

V.

O that the sons of men
To God their songs would raise,
And celebrate his power and love
In never-ceasing praise!

Sir Grand gives four raps and all stand; he then says:—We have assembled at this hour to install the Music; or the following hymn is sung:

C. M.

I.

Eternal Sovereign of the sky,
And Lord of all below,
We mortals to Thy majesty
Our first obedience owe.

II.

Our souls adore Thy throne supreme,
And bless Thy providence
For magistrates of meaner name,
Our glory and defense.

III.

The acts of pious rulers shine
With rays above the rest;
Where laws and liberties combine,
The people are made blest.

Prince Marshal to Sir Grand:—I have the honor of presenting to you Prince ———, who has been elected Presiding Prince of ——— Palatium, No. —, and is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE PRESIDING PRINCE.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, you have been elected by the members of your Palatium to preside over its important work. I place in your hands the charter—that makes ——— Palatium, No. —, a legal body. It must be present when the Palatium is open for business. You will carefully guard it as a sacred power. I present to you the Constitution of the Palatium, and the Laws of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle. It is your duty to have these Laws enforced in your Palatium. I present to you this sword, with the hilt in your hand. You are to teach the Royal Palatine Guards how to use it in the defense of their country when assailed by an enemy, and to protect the innocent. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be an example to the Princes and Princesses. Sir Prince Marshal, please seat the Presiding Prince.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the honor of presenting to you Princess ———, who has been elected Vice-Princess of ——— Palatium, No. —, and is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE VICE-PRINCESS.

Sir Grand:—Princess, I take pleasure in saying to you that the members of the Palatium have expressed their confidence in your ability by electing you to the important office of Vice-Princess. Your duty is to assist the Presiding Prince by counsel and advice in his several duties. You shall preside during his absence from his seat. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. May you attend to your duties punctually. Prince Marshal, you will please seat the Vice-Princess.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I now present to you Prince ———, who has been elected Recording Prince of ——— Palatium, No. —. He is ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE RECORDING PRINCE.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, you have been elected to the position of Recording Prince by the members of the Palatium. It is your duty to be present at every meeting of the Palatium, and record the business. You must keep a roll-book, and enroll the names of every member. You are to make a quarterly report to the C. G. M. on the condition of the Palatium, receive all moneys paid into the Palatium, and draw all warrants for money on Prince Banker, and see that they are properly signed by the Presiding Officer, and countersigned by yourself. Pay all moneys that you receive for the Palatium to Prince Banker, and take his receipt therefor. You are the corresponding officer of the Palatium. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. Be careful in your business. Prince Marshal, please seat the Recording Prince.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I take pleasure in introducing Princess ———, who has been elected Assistant Princess of ——— Palatium, No. —, and is now ready for installation.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE ASSISTANT PRINCESS.

Sir Grand:—Princess, I congratulate you on the honorable position which you have attained. It is your duty to assist the Recording Prince in his several duties, and to attend to his business during his absence. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. May you have good success. Prince Marshal, you will please seat the Assistant Princess.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the honor of presenting to you Prince ———, who has been elected Prince Banker of ——— Palatium, No. —. He is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCE BANKER.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, by the suffrage of the members of this Palatium, you are called to the very important position of Prince Banker. It is

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCE CLERICUS.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, you have been honored by the members of the Palatium by their electing you to the high office of Prince Clericus. It is your duty to conduct the devotional exercises of the Palatium, visit the sick or distressed Princes or Princesses, and to perform the funeral ceremonies of the Palatium. I now present to you the Jewel of your office. May you be well instructed in the Holy Scriptures. Prince Marshal, you will please seat Prince Clericus.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the pleasure of introducing to you Princess ———, who has been elected Princess Revista of ——— Palatium, No—, and is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCESS REVISTA.

Sir Grand:—Princess, the office to which you have been elected is one that requires your closest attention. Your duty is fully explained in the Ritual. I advise you to carefully study your part, so that you may be qualified in the business of your office. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office. May you honorably perform your duty. Prince Marshal, please seat Princess Revista.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the honor of presenting to you Prince ———, who has been elected Prince Marshal of ——— Palatium, No. —. He is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCE MARSHAL.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, it is with pleasure I hear that the members of the Palatium have elected you as Prince Marshal. It is your duty to instruct the Palatine Guards in the march, drill and the sword exercises, and conduct all public turn-outs of the Palatine Guards. Your station is to guard the inner door during the Session of the Palatium. I now present to you the Jewel of your office and this sword. You will find need for it in your duties. Be courageous. Prince Marshal, please seat the elected Prince Marshal.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I have the honor of presenting to you Prince ———, who has been elected Prince Gonfalonier of ——— Palatium, No.—. He is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCE GONFALONIER.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, the members of the Palatium have conferred on you the honorable duty of unfurling and carrying the Royal Banner of the Royal House of Media. It is your duty to guard the Gonfalon, and defend it in time of danger. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office and place in your care the Gonfalon of the Palatium. Prince Marshal, please seat Prince Gonfalonier.

Prince Marshal:—Sir Grand, I take pleasure in introducing to you Princess ———, who has been elected as Princess Sentina, and is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCESS SENTINA.

Sir Grand:—Princess, you have been honored by the members of the Palatium by their electing you to the very important office of Princess Sentina. It is your duty to guard the inner entrance of the Palatium during the hours of the Sessions. Your further duties you will find in the Ritual. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office, and the Poniard of defense. Be prompt to every duty. Prince Marshal, please seat Princess Sentina.

Prince Marshall:—Sir Grand, I have the pleasure of introducing to you Prince ————, who has been elected Prince Wardship. He is now ready to be installed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PRINCE WARDSHIP.

Sir Grand:—Sir Prince, you have been elected Prince Wardship by the members of the Palatium. It is a responsible office, and in entrusting you with the position, the members have shown their confidence in your integrity and ability. Your station is at the outer post; you are to guard the entrance, and report all who desire admittance. I now invest you with the Jewel of your office, and present to you this sword; use it in defense of your position; may you perform your duties with honor. Prince Marshal, please seat Prince Wardship.

Sir Grand gives four raps, and all stand, except the newly installed officers. Prince Marshal forms a procession of the Palatine Guards, Princesses, Uniform Rank Knights and Priestesses (if there is room) who march four times around the hall, while the band is playing, or while some familiar hymn is sung.

At the conclusion of the fourth round, the Prince Marshal forms a circle around the installed officers—the Palatine Guards and the Princesses in the inner circle, and the Uniform Rank Knights and Priestesses on the outer circle.

FUNERAL CEREMONY

—: OF THE:—

PALATINE GUARDS.

BURIAL CEREMONY OF THE PALATINE GUARDS.

INSTRUCTIONS.

1.—A Palatine Guard, to be entered with the full honors, must be a member of the Uniform Rank, and in good standing in the Palatium.

2.—At the summons of the Presiding Prince, the Palatine Guards assemble to prepare for the interment.

3.—The Guards must attend in full uniform, with their sword hilts and banner draped in mourning, the officers wearing their Jewels.

4.—On the day on which the remains are to be interred, the Guards shall assemble in their hall, and march to the residence, or wherever the remains are, in Palatine order. The sword and chapeau is borne in the rear of the P. P. On arriving at the place where the remains are, the lines are opened to the right and left, the pall-bearers pass through the lines, and place the sword and chapeau on the casket. The pall-bearers (Palatine Guards) take the casket, and, conducted by Prince Wardship pass through the lines and place it in the hearse.

5.—The procession is then formed by Prince Marshal and his Assistant Marshals, whereupon they march to the church or place where the services are to be held, in the following order:

Prince Wardship (on Foot or Horse).

Music.

Other Societies or Orders (Men).

Uniform Rank (Knights).

Palatine Guards.

Family (in Carriages).

Princesses (in Carriages).

Priestesses (in Carriages).

Grand and Past Grand Officers.

Citizens (in Carriages).

6.—After arriving at the church, the Palatine Guards and Knights shall enter in reversed order, preceding the casket, followed by the Princesses, Priestesses and Grand Officers.

7.—The P. P. shall preside during the ceremony, assisted by Prince Clericus. After the sermon, the Uniform Rank Knights open with their burial ceremony, which is followed by the Palatine Guards. The members of the order stand during prayer and the ceremonies.

CEREMONY IN THE CHURCH.

After the sermon and church services, and after the Uniform Rank Knights have performed their part of the church ceremony and are seated, the P. P. commands, in a low voice:—Guards, Stand and Uncover! The Guards fold their arms, with chapeaus resting on their left arms.

Presiding Prince:—Palatine Guards, we are sad to-day; our ranks have been broken; a true and trusted Guard has passed through the gates of death; Prince ——— is no more of earth; he received the summons that must be obeyed; kind and loving arms could not keep him here; our swords, so ready to be wielded in defence of every Palatine Guard, remain in their scabbards, our blades could not shield him in that dreadful hour, nor defend him in his struggle with death. Prince ——— has passed the portals, and we to-day mourn his demise. The Royal House of Media will no more hear his Princely voice. He is silent; he is wrapped in lifeless mortality; he will never meet the Guards again in the Palatine. His hand will never wield his sword. His feet will never tread the earth again in the royal march and drill; all that remains of Brother Prince and Guard is his lifeless body stilled in the embrace of death. Palatine Guards, Cover! Let us reverently attend to the lessons of the Sacred Scriptures.

Prince Clericus:—In my distress, I called upon the Lord and cried unto my God. He heard my voice, and my cry came before Him. I will rejoice in Thy mercy!

Response:—Hear us, Lord, and in mercy save us.

P. C.:—The Lord will give strength unto His people; we trust in Thee, O Lord; shine upon Thy servants.

Res.:—Hear, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

P. C.:—God is our refuge and strength, an ever present help in trouble.

Res.:—Lord, remember us in love and mercy.

P. C.:—Help us, O God, of our salvation, for the glory of Thy name, and deliver us and purge away our sins, for Thy name's sake.

Res.:—Lord, let Thy tender mercies remain with us.

P. C.:—Teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts to wisdom.

Res.:—Bless the Lord, oh my soul.

P. C.:—Praise ye the Lord, O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good; His mercy endureth forever.

Res.:—Save us, O Lord, we praise Thee, our Savior.

P. C.:—Teach us, O Lord, to do Thy will, for Thou art our God; lead us in the land of the upright.

Res.:—Deliver us, O Lord, and we will praise Thy holy name.

P. P.:—One by one we pass from earth. Shall we remember our Princely Brother?

Res.:—We will revere his name and his many virtues.

P. P.:—Shall his name be recorded in the Palatium?

Res. :—The record is made. It is written here, (hand on heart).

P. P. :—He was loved and respected; may he be enrolled in the heavenly land.

Res. :—May he rest in the never-fading light of glory.

The following is then sung:

C. M.

I.

Teach me the measure of my days.
Thou maker of my frame:
I would survey life's narrow space,
And learn how frail I am.

II.

A span is all that we can boast,
An inch or two of time;
Man is but Vanity and dust,
In all his flower and prime.

III.

What shall I Wish, or Wait for then,
From creatures, earth and dust?
They make our expectations vain,
And disappoint our trust.

IV.

Now I forbid my carnal hope,
My fond desires recall;
I give my mortal interest up,
And make my God my all.

Whereupon the following prayer is read by Prince Clericus:

PRAYER.

Our Heavenly Father, in the name of Jesus, our Redeemer, in our sorrow we come unto Thee. Thou art the heart's comforter, in mercy hear us. We thank Thee for Thy providential care over us during blades of steel could not shield our Princely Palatine; the guarded doors of our Palatium could not prevent the entrance of the "grim slayer;" the loving hands of the Princesses of Media would have held their Princely Brother to the earth, but smiles and tears could not retain him, nor prevent the cold touch of death to the silent rest we have brought him; he sleeps with the unnumbered multitude; calmly he passed into the regions of the dead; may he find that rest which is given to the believer in the Presiding Prince of the Heavenly Land; may the Son and Savior give him a place in the paradise of bliss, and exchange his earthly armor for the royal robes of eternal light; this sad and sorrowful circle tells how well we loved our Prince Palatine; with him we cannot again meet on earth; he is gone, to return no more; we will remember his many good qualities, and over his faults cast the mantle of forgetfulness. Princes and Princesses of the Royal House of Media, one by one we must pass from earth; our names will be dropped from the roll-books of the Palatium; may we so live that our names will be enrolled in the Lamb's Book of Life; that when the chill of death clogs our blood, and our hearts cease to respond to the call of life, our unfettered souls will have clear passports into the realms of eternal bliss and happiness.

After the usual custom of reviewing the body has been observed by the congregation, Palatine Guards, Uniform Rank Knights, Princesses and Priestesses, the procession will then form and march to the place of interment. After the Uniform Rank Knights have finished their ceremony, the Palatine Guards form a perfect circle around the casket, with the P. P. and P. C. at the head, and the family of the departed at the foot of the grave.

P. P.:—Palatine Guards, salute Prince Palatine for the last time. (Four salutes are given.)

If there is room, the Prince forms the Palatine Guards in single file, and marches them around the casket four times, each touching the head of the casket with the point of his sword every time he goes around, and says, Farewell.

Music; or the following hymn is sung:

C. M.

I.

Thy mighty arm! O God, was nigh
When we our foes assailed;
'Tis Thou hast raised our honors high,
And o'er their host prevailed.

II.

The thund'ring horse, the martial band,
Without 'Thine aid Were Vain;
And vict'ry files at Thy command
To crown the bright campaign.

III.

Their mounds, their camps, their lofty towers,
Into our hands are given;
Not from desert or strength of ours,
But through the grace of Heaven.

IV.

The faithful tablet of our heart
These mercies shall record,
And never thence shall they depart,
Nor we forget the Lord.

V.

To our young race Will we proclaim
The mercies God has shown;
That they may learn to bless His name,
And choose Him for their own.

VI.

Thus, while we sleep in silent dust,
 When threat'ning dangers come,
 Their fathers' God shall be their trust,
 Their refuge, and their home.

After the circle is formed, Prince Marshal gives the command to reverse swords and uncover. (The Guards stand with folded arms, their chapeaus resting on their right arms over the hilts of their swords.) The Prince Marshal removes the chapeau and sword from the casket, whereupon it is lowered into the grave.

The Prince Marshal points the deceased Prince's sword over the grave, and says:—Sir Princes, this is an emblem of defense and attack. Our deceased Palatine Brother was instructed that with the hilt in his hand he was to defend the innocent and protect the weak, and be true to every trust. The sword is a symbol of the Sword of the Spirit. He who possesses that symbolized sword has the pass into the holy presence of the Master Commander of Heaven and Earth. May the spiritual sword of love permit us to meet our Palatine Brother in the Heavenly Mansions.

Prince Marshal:—Palatine Guards, Cover! Return Swords!! Hear and Assist Prince Clericus!!!

P. C.:—I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. Whosoever liveth and believeth in Me, shall never die. To the earth we commit the mortal remains of our deceased Brother. May his soul rest in peace. Earth to earth, (Cast earth by its own laws, and is subject to neither the Temple nor the Tabernacle Constitutions.

8.—The Queen Mother shall have full control or management of the Tent, and will be held accountable to the Grand Body, under which its charter is held, for the manner in which she administers the laws.

9.—The Queen Mother shall represent her Tent in the Grand Session, and make a full report of the work and business during the previous Tent year.

10.—Tents shall elect their own officers. After a Maid or Page moves to place a candidate in nomination—and being duly seconded—a standing vote is taken, and a majority of the votes given will elect. The Queen Mother, assisted by the Father of the Tent, shall conduct the election.

11.—The Tent has no secret degrees. The only secrets being the Password and Saluting Sign.

12.—When a Maid arrives at the age of sixteen years, she chooses the Tabernacle which she desires to join. The Queen Mother gives her a transfer, recommending her to the Tabernacle which she desires to join, giving her age and stating how long she has been a member of the Tent, and shall certify as to her moral character, good deportment, and that she is in perfect health. A Tabernacle shall not receive a member from any Tent, unless acceptable as regards morality and good deportment, and is in perfect health.

13.—When a Taborian Cadet arrives at the age of eighteen years, he must choose the Temple which he desires to join. The Queen Mother gives him a transfer, stating how long he has been a member of the Tent, recommending him, giving his age, deportment, and general health. A Temple shall not receive a member from a Tent, unless his deportment is good, and he is in sound health.

14.—A Maid cannot remain a member of a Tent after she becomes sixteen years of age. A Taborian Cadet cannot remain a Page in the Tent after he arrives at the age of eighteen years.

15.—The Tabernacle to which the Maid is transferred, must confer all the degrees upon her, and enroll her name. (The Maid shall pay one dollar when her name is enrolled.)

16.—The Temple to which the Page is transferred, shall give him all the degrees. (He shall pay one dollar on being enrolled.)

GENERAL LAWS.

ARTICLE I.

REGALIA.

SECTION 1.—The regalia of the Maids shall consist of a white dress; white gloves; a pink sash, four inches wide, worn from either right or left shoulder; a wreath of leaves and flowers for head-wear, and a Tent badge.

SEC. 2.—The Taborian Cadets shall be neatly dressed in dark blue suits; knee pants and scarlet stockings; coat buttoned up in front; brown gloves; scarlet belt; Tent badge, to be worn on left breast; iron or tin-pointed javelin, five feet long, one inch and a half in thickness, of scarlet color; black cadet cap, with silver band, and letters T. C. thereon.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1.—The banner shall be two by three feet, one side deep scarlet, with the name of the city and State thereon. The other side light green, with the name and number of the Tent. The banner is trimmed with silver lace and fringe.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1.—The regalia of the Queen Mother shall be a white dress and a dark pink robe, entrain; a golden coronet, ornamented with white stones; pink gloves; emerald green belt, with silver clasps, and figures 333; a scepter, made to suit the taste. When she does not wear the robe, the regalia is an emerald green collar, trimmed with twelve silver stars and silver lace, and the letters Q. M.¹ thereon.

SEC. 2.—The Vice-Queen Mother wears the same, excepting the robe and scepter.

SEC. 3.—The Father of the Tent shall wear the Uniform Rank dress and regalia.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1.—The officers of the Tent may be installed by any Past Q. M., Grand Deputy, or G. Q. M.

SEC. 2.—The manner of installing is as follows: All the officers are seated in their proper stations. Their individual duties are read to them from the Constitution, commencing with the Queen Mother, and so on until all the officers are installed. When this is finished, the Installing Officer calls up all those present, except the officers who have just

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

1.—The Queen Mother shall represent her Tent at the Grand Session of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and at the Triennial Grand Session.

2.—The Tent is a department in the International Order of Twelve, and the government of the Tent is under the control of the Queen Mother. She is responsible for any violation of the laws of the Order.

3.—The Taborian Cadets shall be commanded by the Chief Tent Marshal. He must instruct them in the drill and march. The Cadets must drill regularly.

4.—The Queen Mother shall instruct the Maids and Pages in mannerly behavior, the use of polite language, obedience to parents, teachers and elderly persons, enforce cleanliness in dress and person, and inculcate a love for home and the Order.

5.—A Tent may make its own By-Laws, but they shall not conflict with the Constitution. The By-Laws may regulate the fees for membership, the monthly dues, the sick dues and burial benefits, and the day and hour of the regular meetings.

6.—Queen Mothers will be held responsible should they fail to enforce the general laws respecting Tents. All Tents must have precisely the same kind of dress, regalia and badges as the General Laws direct.

The Queen Mother shall wear the Tabernacle funeral dress and her Jewel of office; her scepter is to be craped.

The Vice-Queen Mother shall wear the Tabernacle dress and her Jewel of office.

The Father of the Tent shall wear a black suit, white gloves, and his Jewel of office.

The Pall-bearers—either Maids or Cadets—shall wear, in addition to their other dress, white sashes.

The Banner of the Tent shall be trimmed with white and black crape.

THE MARCH.

The Maids and Pages shall assemble at a designated place near the residence of their deceased member, and form in line of march, as follows:

Tent Marshal

Father of Tent.

Queen Mother and Vice-Queen Mother.

Cadets, by twos.

Banner.

Maids, by twos.

Pall-bearers.

Pall-bearers.

Family, in Carriages.

Citizens, in Carriages.

The Knights and Daughters will show their respects by wearing their Jewels or Badges during the ceremony.

CEREMONY AT THE CHURCH.

If the remains are conveyed to a church, when the procession arrives there the lines are opened, and the casket is conducted by the Father of the Tent to the door of the church, where the minister meets it. They then enter in the following order:

Minister and Father of the Tent.

Family.

Queen Mother and Vice-Queen Mother.

Maids, by twos.

Cadets, by twos.

When the casket is rested, the C. M. P. sits at the head of casket, and the C. P. V. at the foot. The Q. M., V.-Q. M. and F. of T. in front of the altar, and the Maids and Pages in the rear of the family

The minister then opens the services, and preaches the sermon. After which the Queen Mother or Father reads the following (all stand):

Maids and Pages, we assemble at this hour, in obedience to a solemn duty which we owe to the memory of one who was a loving member of _____ Tent, No. —. We mourn the loss of a near and dear child. A golden link in the chain that formed around our Tent is broken, and a precious name is transferred from our roll-book to the roll-call in the Land of Eternal Bliss. Children of Tabor, we who are in life now are reminded that, though young in years, we may be called away at any hour. Let us trust and have faith in God, our Savior. To-day we bid farewell to (give the name), and pray that it may be our happy lot to meet her (or him) in the Paradise of Eternal Rest. Mothers, Fathers, Brothers and Sisters, remember that one by one we depart from earth. Let us pray to our Heavenly Father, that he may unite all the family in the Kingdom of Heaven, where there will be no more separation.

The following is then sung by the Maids and Pages:

“When blooming youth is snatched away.”

I.

When blooming youth is snatched away
By death's resistless hand,
Our hearts the mournful tribute pay
Which pity must demand.

II.

While pity prompts the rising sigh,
Oh, may this truth, impressed
With awful power, ‘I, too, must die,’
Sink deep in every breast!

III.

Let this vain World engage no more:
Behold the opening tomb!
It bids us seize the present hour;
To-morrow, death may come.

IV.

Oh, let us fly—to Jesus fly!
Whose powerful arm can save;
Then shall our hopes ascend on high,
And triumph o'er the grave!

Res.:—Lord, hear our prayer, and bless and comfort all that mourn.

Q. M.:—Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing.

CLOSING OF THE CHURCH SERVICE.

The Doxology is sung (the congregation standing). The minister then dismisses them, and requests the congregation to be seated until the Tent marches out.

While some familiar hymn is sung, the children of the Tents march around and view the remains, they then pass out and form in open ranks on the outside. The congregation is then permitted to view the remains, whereupon they pass out. The family bids a last farewell, and the casket is carried out in the following order: First, the minister; second, the Queen Mother and Vice-Queen Mother; third, the Father of the Tent; and fourth, the casket, with the family following. All pass through the lines to the hearse.

THE MARCH TO THE CEMETERY.

Q. M. V.-Q. M. F. of T., and Pastor.

Family.

The Children of the Tents.

The Friends of the Family.

(All of the above in carriages or vehicles.)

CEREMONY AT THE GRAVE.

At the grave the children of the Tents open ranks, and the casket is conveyed through in the same manner in which it left the church, and is placed over the grave. The children form a circle around the casket, with the Q. M., V.-Q. M., F. of T. and the minister at the head, and the family at the foot.

The children join hands, and the following, or some other familiar hymn, is sung:

C. M.

“It is appointed unto men once to die.”

I.

If I must die, Lord let me die
With hope in Jesus' blood—
The blood that saves from sin and guilt,
And reconciles to God.

II.

If I must die, then let me die
In peace with all mankind,
And change these fleeting joys below
For pleasures all refined.

III.

If I must die—and die I shall—
Let some kind seraph come,
And bear me on his friendly wing
To my celestial home.

IV.

Of Canaan's land, from Pisgah's top,
May I but have a view,
Though Jordan should o'erflow its banks,
I'll boldly venture through.

Prayer by the minister or the Father of the Tent. The casket is then lowered into the grave. The children forming the chain raise their hands until the casket arrives at the bottom of the grave, they then drop their hands and break the chain, they then fold their arms across their breasts until the ceremony is ended.

The minister or the Father of the Tent concludes the ceremony, as follows:

Forasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty God, in His wise providence, to take out of this world the soul of our deceased child, we therefore commit its body to the ground—earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; looking for the general resurrection in the last day, and the life of the world to come, through our Lord Jesus Christ, at whose second coming in glorious majesty to judge the world, the earth and the sea shall give up their dead; and the corruptible bodies of those who sleep in Him shall be changed, and made like unto His own glorious body, according to the mighty workings whereby He is able to subdue all things unto Himself.

An appropriate hymn is sung, and the ceremony is closed by the Lord's Prayer: Our father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth, as it is in Heaven; give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen!

Benediction, and all return to their homes.

LAYING CORNER-STONE.

The laying of corner-stones of churches, public buildings and bridges, is a part of the duty of the International Order of Twelve.

The ceremony of laying the corner-stone shall be under the control of the International Grand Temple and Tabernacle, or of the Grand Temple and Tabernacle.

Parties desiring the Order to lay their corner-stone, must make application to the Chief Mentor of the nearest Temple, stating the time and place at which they wish the ceremony to be performed. This petition must be signed by the committee that has charge of the building. A Chief Mentor, when he receives the petition, must lay the matter before the Chief Grand Mentor, with any recommendation that he and the other Chief Mentors (if there are other Temples in the city or town) have to make. The Chief Grand Mentor, when he receives the petition and the recommendation (if favorable), issues an official notice to the Chief Mentors to prepare for a procession, and to assist in laying the corner-stone.

On the day on which the ceremony is to be performed, the Uniform Rank Knights and Palatine Guards shall assemble in their hall in full dress regalia. The Chief Grand Mentor (if present) opens the Grand Temple and Tabernacle, and appoints Grand Officers pro-tem., if the regular officers are not present. (If the C. G. M. cannot attend, he shall appoint a Deputy to represent him.)

If the Daughter Priestesses take part in the procession, they shall wear full dress regalia, or they may wear their Jewels and Badges.

The Vice-Grand Mentor carries the ewer with earth (sand).

The Chief Grand Scribe carries the ewer with corn.

The Chief Grand Treasurer carries the ewer with pure water.

The procession is under the command of the Grand Drill-Master and his aides.

building to be occupied for a (give the purpose for which the house is to be built). One of the doctrines of our Order is to encourage all and any undertakings which have for their object the palliation of the sufferings of the human race. In obedience to the commands of our Order, we have assembled here to-day to take part in laying the corner-stone of this building. We feel honored at our being instrumental in laying the stone that is to firmly bind the building together. We apply the secret lock to the four corners and find them true, having passed upon every square. The large attendance here bespeaks the amount of interest which the friends and citizens share in the erection of this building. May it be an honor and benefit to this community, and may success crown every effort for good that has its origin in this house.

G. D.-M.:—Attention, Sir Knights. Handle Swords! Draw Swords!! Present Swords!!!

The C. G. M. places the box in the cavity, and the stone is lowered to its resting place and then fixed firmly by the architect (the band in the meantime rendering some appropriate music).

G. D.-M.:—Attention, Sir Knights. Carry, Comrades!

C. G. M. Let us now listen to the C. G. O., who will read from the Holy Scriptures:

Thus saith the Lord of Hosts: Consider your ways.

Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the Lord of Hosts. Because of Mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

And I called for a draught upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men and upon cattle, and upon all the labor of the land.

Then Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the son of Josedech, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the Lord, their God, and the words of Haggai, the prophet, as the Lord, their God, had sent him, and the people did fear before the Lord.

Then spake Haggai, the Lord's messenger in the Lord's message, unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house of the Lord of Hosts, their God.

In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius, the king.

In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by the prophet Haggai, saying:

Speak now to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying:

Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work: for I am with you, saith the Lord of Hosts:

According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so My spirit remaineth with you: fear ye not.

For thus saith the Lord of Hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land.

And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of Hosts.

The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine, saith the Lord of Hosts.

The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of Hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of Hosts.

G. D.-M.:—Attention, Sir Knights. Carry Swords!

Music by the band.

C. G. M.:—Sir Chief Grand Orator, you will please mark the Taborian signs and the perfect figures on the top of the stone. (“777—333—12” is marked on the stone with green chalk.)

G. D.-M.:—Attention, Sir Knights. Present Swords!

May there be gathered within these walls the golden harvest of success; may the seeds of eternal happiness be planted here and grow up to the glory of God and be garnered in the heavenly rest, to live forever.

C. G. M.:—Sir Chief Grand Treasurer (the C. G. T. stands by the side of Chief), with this pure water we consecrate the house to be erected upon this stone to Purity, Peace and Harmony. (The C. G. T. pours the water around the outside of the stone, touching the four sides.) Water is an emblem of purity. May all who enter this house live a pure life; may they inherit the waters of regeneration, and by a life in the service of the Lord be enabled to drink from the fountain of eternal life in the building not made with hands eternal in the Kingdom of Bliss and Glory.

C. G. M. strikes the stone four distinct times with his mallet, and says:—By virtue of the authority in me vested, I now and here announce that this foundation stone is truly laid and firmly laid and tried; may the Lord bless the work.

G. D.-M.:—Attention, Sir Knights. Present Swords! Return Swords!! (If there is a collection to be made, now is the time to announce it.)

Music by the band. The Knights and Daughters of Tabor form a procession and march by the stone slowly, and contribute what they may want to give on the stone. The strangers and citizens follow.

The return march to their hall is made in the same manner in which they marched out. On arriving in the hall the C. G. M. then declares the Grand Temple and Tabernacle at rest.

DEDICATION CEREMONY

OF

KNIGHTS AND DAUGHTERS OF TABOR HALLS.

—:O:—

The dedication ceremony of Temple and Tabernacle halls may be either public or private.

INSTRUCTIONS.

1. The hall, before it is dedicated, must be furnished with all the necessities for the work and business of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor.

2. The ceremony must be performed by a C. G. M., P. C. G. M., or a D. G. M.

3. The Temple and Tabernacle Houses within the square, with their full furniture in sight, and candles burning.

4. The Daughters are marched into the hall, in full dress and regalia; the officers in their stations, and seated.

5. The Knights, in full dress and regalia, assemble in the ante-rooms, or some place near the hall, and march into and around the hall three times, and are seated; officers in their stations. Music; or the following hymn is sung:

I.

How lovely are Thy dwellings fair,
 Oh, Lord of Hosts! How dear
 The pleasant Tabernacles are,
 Where Thou dost dwell so near.

II.

My soul doth long, and fainting, sigh
 Thy Temples, Lord, to see;
 My heart and flesh aloud do cry,
 O, living God, for Thee!

III.

Happy, who in Thy house reside,
 Where Thee they ever praise;
 Happy, whose strength in Thee doth bide,
 And in their hearts Thy ways.

IV.

They journey on from strength to strength,
 With joy and gladsome cheer,
 Till all before our God, at length,
 In Zion do appear.

The C. M. of the Temple gives three raps, and all stand. He then says:—We have assembled for the purpose of dedicating this hall to the work and business of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor. I now take pleasure in introducing Sir ——— ———, the Dedicating Officer.

The C. M. then presents the gavel to the Dedicating Officer.

The Dedicating Officer gives one rap, and all are seated. He then reads, as follows:—Sir Knights and Daughters, the solemn duties of the hour, and the importance of the business that has called us together, cannot be overestimated in an Order like ours, fulfilling a high and holy duty in this Christian age. We are banded together for mutual aid.

and protection; to help each other in sickness; to comfort each other in distress; to support disabled members; to care for the lonely orphans of Knights or Daughters, and make glad the hearts of mourning widows. This is the mission of our beloved Order. Then, how necessary it is that we should, in all our work and business, remember an overruling Providence, and ask that He may preside over our counsels, and give us wisdom to successfully conduct and guide the affairs of our Order, that it may continue a blessing for all time to come. Let us not only dedicate our hall to the Lord God, but give ourselves unto His keeping.

THE CEREMONY.

The Dedicating Officer gives three raps, and all stand. He then gives the following commands:—

1. Sir Knights, Form a Hollow Square! (The C. M., C. O. and C. P. in the center of the square, near the Temple House.)

2. Sir Knights, Handle Swords!

3. Sir Knights, Draw Swords!

4. Sir Knights, Present Swords!

5. Sir Knights, Deposit Swords! (The swords are laid down pointing to the Temple and Tabernacle Houses.)

6. Sir Knights, To the Right About Face! (Turn, face out.) Deposit Helmets!!

7. Sir Knights, To the Left About Face! (Turn, face in.)

8. Let us pray.

The Knights will kneel on their right knees, with their arms across their breasts, the Daughters standing.

Send Thine hand from above, rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of strange children.

Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

I will sing a new song unto Thee, O God! upon a psaltery and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto Thee.

It is He that giveth salvation unto kings; who delivereth David, His servant, from the hurtful sword.

Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner-stones polished after the similitude of a palace.

That our garner may be full, affording all manner of store; that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our streets.

That our oxen may be strong to labor; that there be no breaking in, nor going out; that there be no complaining in our streets.

Happy is that people, that is, in such a case; yea, happy is that people, whose God is the Lord.

The Dedicating Officer, standing near the Temple House, says:—Attention, Sir Knights. Form the Living Chain! (The Knights clasphands all around, so as to form a continuous chain. The command is then given to the Daughters to form a living chain around the Knights.)

The Chief Preceptress reads from Judges, chapter IV:

And the children of Israel again did evil in the sight of the Lord when Ehud was dead.

And the Lord sold them into the hand of Jabin, king of Canaan, that reigned in Hazor, the captain of whose host was Sisera, which dwelt in Harosheth, of the Gentiles.

And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord; for he had nine hundred chariots of iron; and twenty years he mightily oppressed the children of Israel.

And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time.

And she dwelt under the palm tree of Deborah, between Ramah and Bethel, in Mount Ephraim; and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment.

And she sent and called Barak, the son of Abinoam, out of Kedesh-naphthali, and said unto him; Hath not the Lord God of Israel commanded, saying: Go, and draw toward Mount Tabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphthali, and of the children of Zebulun?

And I will draw unto thee, to the river Kishon, Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with his chariots and his multitude, and I will deliver him into thine hand.

And Barak said unto her, if thou wilt go with me, then I will go; but if thou wilt not go with me, then I will not go.

And she said, I will surely go with thee; notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honor; for the Lord shall sell Sisera into the hand of a woman. And Deborah arose, and went with Barak to Kedesh.

And Barak called Zebulon and Naphthali to Kedes^h; and he went up with ten thousand men at his feet; and Deborah went up with him.

Now Heber, the Kenite, which was of the children of Hobab, the father-in-law of Moses, had severed himself from the Kenites, and pitched his tent unto the plain of Zaanannim, which is by Kedes^h.

And they shewed Sisera that Barak, the son of Abinoam, was gone up to Mount Tabor.

And Sisera gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harosheth, of the Gentiles, unto the river of Kishon.

And Deborah said unto Barak: Up, for this is the day in which the Lord hath delivered Sisera into thine hand; is not the Lord gone out before thee? So Barak went down from Mount Tabor, and ten thousand men after him.

And the Lord discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak; so that Sisera lighted down off his chariot, and fled away on his feet.

But Barak pursued after the chariots, and after the host, unto Harosheth of the Gentiles; and all the host of Sisera fell upon the edge of the sword; and there was not a man left.

All give three claps, and say, “Well Done! Well Done!! Well Done!!!

The C. M. says:—Attention, Sir Knights. To the Right About Face! Recover Helmets! To the Left About Face! Recover Swords! Present Swords! Return Swords! Form Procession! March Around the Hall, Daughters in front!

Universe, in whom is all glory and power, I do solemnly dedicate this hall to the work of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor.

All give one clap, and pronounce: May He bless the work!

The Dedicating Officer gives four raps on the Temple and Tabernacle Houses, and says:—In the name of Barak, the son of Abinoam, I do solemnly dedicate this hall to Charity and Friendship.

All give two claps, and pronounce: May we hear and obey!

The Dedicating Officer gives six raps on the Temple and Tabernacle Houses, and says:—In the name of Deborah, the prophetess, I do solemnly dedicate this hall to Honor and Virtue.

All give three claps, and say: May we remember! All join hands, and the C. O. offers the following invocation:

O, Most Glorious Lord, we acknowledge that we are not worthy to offer unto Thee anything belonging unto us; yet we beseech Thee, in Thy great goodness, graciously to accept the dedication of this place to Thy service, and to prosper this, our undertaking. Receive the prayers and intercessions of all those who shall call upon Thee in this house, and give them grace to prepare their hearts to serve Thee with reverence and godly fear; affect them with an awful apprehension of Thy divine majesty, and a deep sense of their own unworthiness; that, so approaching Thy sanctuary with lowliness and devotion, and coming before Thee with clean thoughts and pure hearts, with bodies undefiled, and minds sanctified, they may always perform a service acceptable to Thee, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen! Amen!! Amen!!!

Dedicating Officer gives one rap, all are seated.
Any Chief Preceptress present may then read the following:

I.

Ye boundless realms of joy,
Exalt your Maker's fame;
His praise your song employ
Above the starry frame:
Your voices raise,
Ye Cherubim
And Seraphim,
To sing His praise.

II.

Thou moon, that rul'st the night,
And sun that guid'st the day,
Ye glitt'ring stars of light,
To Him your homage pay:
His praise declare,
Ye heavens above,
And clouds that move
In liquid air.

III.

Let them adore the Lord,
And Praise His holy name,
By whose almighty word
They all from nothing came;
And all shall last,
From changes free;
His firm decree
Stands ever fast.

IV.

Let earth her tribute pay:
Praise Him, ye dreadful whales,
And fish that through the sea
Glide swift with glitt'ring scales;
Fire, hail, and snow,
And misty air,
And winds, that where
He bids them blow.

The Dedicating Officer gives four raps, and all stand; he then says:—The dedicating of halls is legally set apart for the business and work of the Temples of Knights of Tabor, Tabernacles of Daughter Priestesses of Tabor, the Royal House of Media, and Tents of Maids and Pages of Honor. May success attend their efforts. (He gives one rap, and all are seated.)

If there is an oration to be delivered, or if the Uniform Rank Knights or Palatine Guards desire to drill, now is the time, after which the ceremony closes.

TO FORM THE LINES.

To form the lines, the C. D.-M. will command:—

1. Attention, Sir Knights. Fall In!

(The Knights will form in one rank, face to the right.)

2. Front Face!

3. Right Dress!

4. Front!

(The head will resume the natural position.)

5. From the Right, Count Twos!

(At this command the Sir Knights will count from right to left in a distinct voice, “One, Two; One, Two;” until through the ranks.)

6. Form Divisions, Right Face!

(The Sir Knights will all face to the right; Division No. 2 will place itself on the right of Division No. 1, thus forming the Sir Knights into files of two abreast, No. 1 constituting the first Division and No. 2 the second.)

7. Officers in Ranks!

(At this command the V.-M. will take his place to the right of the Second Division, the C. S. to the right of the First Division, the C. S. B. in the center.)

8. Form Lines, and Receive the C. M. (or P. P.)!

The V.-M. will command:—

9. Second Division, By File Left, March!

(At this command the Second Division will march promptly to the left.)

10. By File Left, March!

(Until they arrive opposite the First Division, the V.-M. will command. After placing his division exactly opposite the First Division by “right or left dress,” he will resume his place to the right of his division. While this movement is being executed, the C. S. will command the First Division.)

11. (1) Mark Time! (2) Front!

12. First Division, Front! Right Dress! Front!

(The Sir Knights will thus be formed in two parallel lines, facing inward. The C. D.-M. advances to the C. M.’s station, salutes, and says: Sir Chief, the lines are now ready for inspection.)

The C. M. takes his place to the right between the two divisions, standing firm. The C. D.-M. then commands:—

13. Attention, Sir Knights! Handle Swords! Draw Swords! Carry Swords! Salute the C. M. (or P. P.)! Present Swords!

The C. M. passes down through the lines, then takes his place on the extreme left, and commands:—

14. Sir Knights, Carry Swords!

15. Sir Knights, Form Wall of Steel!

16. Sir Knights, Take Taborian Position!

17. Sir Knights, Carry Swords!

18. Sir Knights, Present Swords!

19. Sir Knights, Guard the Head!

20. Sir Knights, Guard the Body!

21. Sir Knights, Form Wall of Steel!

22. Sir Knights, Carry Swords!

23. Sir Knights, Present Swords!

24. Sir Knights, Carry Comrade!

25. Sir Knights, Give the Taborian Rest!

26. Sir Knights, Salute!

27. Sir Knights, Carry Swords!

The C. D.-M. commands:—

28. Sir Knights, Present Swords!

(The C. M. passes up through the lines and takes his seat.)

29. Sir Knights, Return Swords!

MARCHING DRILL.

The C. D.-M. commands:—

30. Second Division, Left Face!

31. First Division, Right Face!

32. Second Division, By File Right, March!

(They march until they reach the proper place at the right of the First Division.)

33. Second Division, Halt!

34. Sir Knights, Mark Time!

(In stepping off, always begin with the left foot.)

35. Sir Knights, By File Right, March!

(At each turn that is made, repeat command: By File Right!)

36. March Down the Center of the Hall!

37. First Division, File Right; Second Division, File Left, March!

(This movement separates the divisions—and unites them—in their march and counter-march around the hall.)

38. First Division, By File Left, March!

right to left: “One, Two, Three; One, Two, Three”—thus along the line.)

The C. D.-M. will now command:—

48. Sir Knights, Form Divisions! Right Face!

(The Sir Knights will face to the right, and No. 2 will take position to the right of No. 1, and No. 3 will take position to the right of No. 2. Mark time.)

49. Forward, March!

50. Open Order!

(At this command the Knights will take positions from three to seven feet apart, to the right and left.)

There are several fancy positions which may be taken by these divisions, but care must be had that each Knight knows his proper place. Do not attempt them in public, until you can go through them perfectly in the hall.

51. Form the Perfect Number—777!

(The Three Sevens cannot be formed with less than twenty-seven Knights. When the order is given, three Knights from each division, by one backward step, from the right or left, take position to the left. See diagram.)

52. Sir Knights, Resume your Place in Divisions!

53. Sir Knights, Form the Perfect Letter N!

(To form this letter properly, the divisions must be seven feet apart. The Second Division will rest their right upon the right of the First Division, and their left upon the left of the Third Division. See diagram.)

54. Sir Knights, Resume Places and Close Up Ranks!

There are several other beautiful positions that can be taken by these divisions:

The Triangle— \triangle .

The Open Wall— \square .

The Letter Z.

(See diagram.)

TO FORM FOUR DIVISIONS.

55. Attention, Sir Knights. Fall In!

(Always fall in with face to the right.)

The C. D.-M. commands:—

56. Front Face!

57. Right Dress!

58. From the Right, Count by Fours!

59. Form Divisions! Right Face!

(No. 2 will quickly take place to the right of No. 1; No. 3 to the right of No. 2; No. 4 to the right of No. 3.)

These divisions may be thrown into many fancy positions, and the C. D.-M. can exercise his skill in maneuvering the Sir Knights. (1) Open Columns; (2) Two Divisions; (3) Three Divisions; (4) Four Divisions; (5) The Hollow Square; (6) The Double Square \square ; (7) The letter “M,” and various other fancy positions.

NOTICE.

To become perfect in the Tactics and Drill, we must practice regularly, and all must attend if they would perform well. One balk will throw the entire divisions into confusion.

SWORD EXERCISE.

60. Draw Swords!

(First Motion.—At the word “draw,” seize the scabbard with the left hand and grasp the sword with the right hand, and draw it out two inches.

Second Motion.—At the word “swords,” draw the sword from the scabbard and extend the right hand to the front, and drop the sword in the hollow of the elbow.

Third Motion.—Bring the right hand to the thigh, the elbow a little bent, holding the sword between the thumb and two fingers, the blade perpendicular, being position of “Carry Swords.”)

61. Present Swords!

(Raise the sword perpendicularly, the flat of the blade opposite the right eye, the guard at the height of the shoulder, and the elbow supported on the body.)

62. Carry swords!

(Extend the hand to the front, and replace the sword, as in the second and third motions of “Draw Swords.”)

63. Taborian Position!

(First Motion.—Same as “Present Swords!”)

Second Motion.—Drop the point of the sword by extending the arm, so that the right hand will rest on the right side of the thigh, the point of the sword resting on the floor or ground, about eighteen inches from the right foot; the Knight to your right takes position, his left foot touching the sword.)

64. Guard the Head!

(First Motion.—Same as “Present Swords.”)

Second Motion.—Drop the point; turn the head to the left, and return the sword; bring your head to front, and drop the hands to their natural position by the side.)

71. Sir Knights, Disperse! Return to Quarters!

The Uniform Rank Knights and Palatine Guards may practice all the various sword exercises, maneuvers and drills.

When the Palatine Guards drill, instead of addressing them as Sir Knights, say Sir Guards. The Prince Marshal is styled Captain Marshal.

JAVELIN EXERCISES AND DRILL OF THE TABORIAN CADETS.

—:0:—

The javelins are made about five feet in length, steel-pointed, and one inch in diameter.

The ranks are formed in the same manner as designated in the Inspection Diagram.

INSPECTION.

The Chief Tent Marshal addresses the Chief Mentor:—Sir Chief, the Cadets are ready for inspection.

The Chief steps to the right front. The C. T. M. then commands:—

1. Attention, Taborian Cadets! Form Arch!

(First Motion.—Present javelins, holding them about one foot from the heel of the javelin.

Second Motion.—Carry the right foot about eighteen inches to the front; extend the javelin arm, and cross the head of the javelin, about three inches from the point, with that of the Cadet opposite.)

The C. T. M. passes down through the ranks slowly. On arriving at the extreme left, he turns and faces to the right, whereupon he commands:—

2. Cadets, Ground Javelins!

(First Motion.—Present javelins, and bring the feet together.

GENERAL RULES

FOR THE

GOVERNMENT OF THE BUSINESS

OF THE

INTERNATIONAL

ORDER OF TWELVE.

RULES OF ORDER.

—: 0 :—

1. The Presiding Officer, at the proper hour, takes his (or her) seat, and gives one rap; the officers and members clothe themselves in proper regalia, and take their respective seats. The Temple, Tabernacle or Palatium is then opened in regular order.

2. The regular business of the Order shall be attended to without a motion, as prescribed in the “Rules of Business.”

3. During the reading of the minutes, communications or other papers, silence shall be observed. After the minutes are read, if they are found correct, and if no objections are interposed as to their correctness, they shall stand approved; if, however, there is a question as to their correctness, the member who questions their correctness shall state what is not correct, and move that the correction be made.

4. Members and visitors must come to the hall cleanly dressed, wearing the working regalia, and white gloves.

5. A member, when addressing the Temple, Tabernacle or Palatium, shall stand and address the Presiding Officer (giving title of office).

6. During the time that the Temple, Tabernacle or Palatium is open and doing business, no refresh-minutes, without permission from the Presiding Officer.

15. A member speaking shall stand in front of either the Temple or Tabernacle House (as the case may be), and address the Presiding Officer, confine himself to the question at issue, and avoid personalities and irrelevant language.

16. A member shall not be interrupted while speaking, except to explain.

17. A motion shall not be in order until it is seconded, and stated by the Presiding Officer. A motion must be made in writing, when requested by the C. S., C. R. or R. P.

18. A motion to lie on the table shall be decided without debate.

19. A motion to postpone carries the question over to the next meeting.

20. When a question is laid on the table, it cannot be taken up until the next meeting, and then only by a majority vote.

21. A motion to reconsider can be acted upon only at the same Session; it must be made by a member who voted in the majority.

22. The first named on all special committees shall be the Chairman.

23. In all business meetings, they shall proceed according to the Order of Business.

24. A member wishing to retire from the Session during the evening, must come before the Temple (or Tabernacle) House, and make the request to the Presiding Officer. He announces the request, and if a majority are in favor of it, it is granted.

25. Members wishing to retire for a few minutes, shall rise from their seats and stand, and give the saluting sign; the Presiding Officer, on observing them, returns the sign, which signifies that permission is granted.

26. A member crossing the hall during the Session must give the saluting sign.

27. The strictest order and decorum must be observed during the hours of the Session.

28. Should an officer be absent from a meeting, the Presiding Officer shall fill the seat pro-tem.

29. A motion for indefinite postponement, if decided in the affirmative, quashes the proposition entirely, and is not debatable.

30. A motion, when regularly made and seconded, and proposed from the Chair, cannot be withdrawn without the consent of the Session.

31. Any member may rise to a point of order, whenever the speaker does not confine his (or her) remarks to the question, or is not quoting the law properly.

32. The previous motion cannot be entertained until two members have spoken for and against the subject at issue. The previous question is not debatable.

33. A new motion or resolution cannot be made until the one under consideration is disposed of, except a motion to lay on the table or previous question; these are not debatable.

34. A motion to postpone to a certain time, or a substitute, or an amendment, or to refer to a committee, is in order when a motion or resolution is pending.

35. A member, when speaking, must not use personalities or discourteous language. Should this occur, however, then the Presiding Officers shall call the speaker to order. If a member fails to come to order when requested, the Presiding Officer shall fine the speaker, and he must remain silent until the fine is paid, or remitted by the Session or Presiding Officer.

36. A motion to lay an amendment on the table, if it is carried, removes the whole question from the Session for the time, and if it is not taken from the table, it is indefinitely postponed; but it can be taken up for further consideration at any future time.

37. Privileged questions are in order at any time during the Session, such as: first, motion for the order of the day; second, a motion relating to individual members; third, questions of inquiry; fourth, questions of the rights and privileges of the Session; fifth, when a member desires to be correctly informed on any matter that is before the Session; and sixth, when a member desires to explain a matter wherein he has been misunderstood.

38. A motion to adjourn is always out of order, as the Session fixes the hour to open and the hour to rest. The Presiding Officer is governed by these hours, unless a motion is carried to extend the time.

39. The Presiding Officer shall decide all points of order, without debate.

40. All motions or resolutions must be submitted in writing and laid on the Secretary's desk, and must be read when a member desires it.

GRAND HONORS.

The grand honors shown to an International or Past International Grand Chief are given as follows: . A suitable escort is sent to the reception room to conduct the visitor into the Session. As he enters, the Presiding Officer gives four raps, and all stand with their hands lifted up above their heads. When he arrives at the Altar, or Temple or Tabernacle House, he stops, and all give claps—four times three—and all then say: We Welcome! three times. He is then escorted to the Presiding Officer's station, and introduced by the Chief, whereupon one rap is given and all are seated. On invitation of the Chief, he may deliver an address.

An International Chief Grand Preceptress or Past International Chief Grand Preceptress is received in the same manner.

A Chief Grand Mentor, or Past Chief Grand Mentor, is conducted into the Session by an suitable escort. When he enters, the Presiding Officer gives four raps, and all stand, with folded arms, until he arrives at the Altar, or Temple or Tabernacle House, then all give seven claps, and say: We Welcome! three times. He is then conducted to the Presiding Officer's station, and introduced by the Chief, whereupon one rap is given and all are seated. On invitation, he may address the members.

A Chief Grand Preceptress or Past Chief Grand Preceptress is received in the same manner.

All other Grand Officers and Past Grand Officers are received into Subordinate Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents with the standing honors. When they arrive at the Altar, Temple or Tabernacle House, they are introduced by the Chief, and seated.

The grand honors shall only be conferred upon International or Past International Grand Chiefs and International and Past International Grand Preceptresses, Chief Grand Mentors and Past Chief Grand Mentors, and Chief Grand Preceptresses and Past Chief Grand Preceptresses, when received into a Triennial Grand Session or a Grand Session. The same grand honors are given to the above Officers and Past Officers when they visit a Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium or Tent.

RULES OF BUSINESS

GOVERNING THE

TRIENNIAL GRAND SESSIONS.

—:O:—

1.—On the day and hour fixed by the Constitution the members assemble. The I. C. G. M. takes his seat and gives three distinct sounds with the Taborian bell—this calls the Session to order.

2.—After being satisfied that all present are members, he orders the I. C. G. St. and I. I. G. St. to their posts (with instructions).

3.—The I. C. G. S. calls the roll of Grand Temples and Tabernacles. If the Representatives of five of them are present, he shall proceed to open the Triennial Session in the Saba Meroe Degree.

4.—The I. C. G. S. calls the roll of Grand Officers, and they are seated in their stations. If an Officer is absent, the I. C. G. M. shall fill the vacancy pro-tem.

5.—If the hall has not been dedicated to the Taborian work, it is now attended to.

6.—The Committee on Credentials is appointed by the I. C. G. M.

7.—Report of Committee on Credentials.

INTERNATIONAL ORDER OF TWELVE OF KNIGHTS AND DAUGHTERS OF TABOR.

ITS MOTTO:

“IN SOLO DEO SALUS!”

————:O:————

WORK AND BUSINESS OF MEMBERS.

This Order was organized for the benefit of its members, and the people among whom Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents are organized. It is the duty of the Order,

First, to take care of its sick and distressed members, to relieve its poor and helpless members, and to sustain the widows and orphans.

Second, to advance the standard of virtue and morality, encourage and aid in multiplying schools and institutions of learning, and to impress upon its members the necessity of investing in real estate, and acquiring homesteads.

Third, to impress upon its members that they shall be loyal to the Government in which they live, and to be temperate, law abiding and trustworthy.

Fourth, our Order is non-sectarian and non-political, therefore no denominational or political discussions shall be permitted in our Temples, Tabernacles or Palatiums.

Fifth, when a member in good standing dies, it is the duty of the Temple or Tabernacle and Palatium to have the member respectably interred.

RIGHTS OF CHIEF MENTORS.

A Chief Mentor is responsible to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle for the manner in which he conducts the business of his Temple. It is his business to enforce the Laws of the Order, and the Edicts of the C. G. M. He must have a thorough knowledge of all the Laws and Rules of the Order. He must not permit any one to assume control of his Temple. His decisions are final, until reversed by the C. G. M.

RIGHTS OF HIGH PRIESTESS. (C. P.)

A High Priestess is responsible to the Grand Temple and Tabernacle for the manner in which she conducts the business of her Tabernacle. She must enforce the Laws of the Order, and the Edicts of the C. G. M. She must have a thorough knowledge of the Laws and Rules of the Order. She must not permit any one to assume control of her Tabernacle. Her decisions are final, until reversed by the Chief Grand Mentor or Chief Grand Preceptress.

RIGHTS OF MEMBERS.

Members of the International Order of Twelve are obligated to obey all the Laws, Rules and Edicts. It is the right of members in good standing to receive the weekly benefit when sick or disabled, and to receive aid when in distress. It is their right to demand and receive a traveling certificate upon their compliance with the Laws. It is their right to receive a transfer, when they have paid all their dues and taxes. There is no power that can suspend or expel a member without a trial, by due process of the Laws of the Order. The right of appeal, in accordance with the laws of appeals, must not be denied to a member. A Knight of Tabor, in good standing, has the right to visit any Temple or Tabernacle, by producing proof that he is in good standing in the Temple that he is a member of. A Daughter of Tabor has the right to visit any Tabernacle, by producing proof that she is in good standing in the Tabernacle that she is a member of. It is the right of members, who die in good standing, to receive a respectable burial, in accordance with the Laws of the Order.

RIGHTS OF QUEEN MOTHERS.

A Queen Mother has full control of her Tent, and must administer the Laws governing the Tents, and the Edicts of the C. G. M. She is to open and close her Tent without a motion, in accordance with the By-Laws of her Tent. She must have a thorough knowledge of the Laws of the Order. Her decisions are final, until they are reversed by the Grand Queen Mother.

RIGHTS OF PRESIDING PRINCES.

A Presiding Prince has full control of his Palatium, and must administer the Laws that govern Palatiums, and the Edicts of the C. G. M. He is to open and close the Palatium without a motion, in accordance with the By-Laws. He must have a thorough knowledge of the Laws of the Order. His decisions are final, until they are reversed by the C. G. M.

and Tents, in one, two or more States or Territories.

DUTIES OF THE DISTRICT MENTOR.

It shall be the duty of the District Mentor to make organizations in all parts of the District he shall visit, and instruct Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents, when they request his presence. - When he visits, his traveling expenses and per diem must be paid by the Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium or Tent which invites him. He must, when ordered by the I. C. G. M., visit any part of the District on special business for the Order. His expenses must be paid out of the International Grand Treasury. He is to represent his District in the Triennial Grand Session, and the Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in the District will be assessed pro rata to pay his traveling expenses and per diem. He is to keep a list of all organizations, and report to the I. C. G. M. their condition from time to time. C. M.s and C. P.s will make their quarterly reports to him, and he will furnish them with the Quarterly Pass. His office expenses will be paid out of the funds of the District Session, that is, for his stationery and postage stamps.

DUTIES OF THE DISTRICT PRECEPTRESS.

It shall be the duty of the District Preceptress to visit all Tabernacles and Tents, when invited by the C. P. or Q. M. Her expenses are to be paid by the Tabernacle or Tent that she visits. She is authorized to organize Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents in all parts of her District. She is the Representative of the District in the Triennial Grand Session, and the organizations in the District will be assessed pro rata to pay her expenses.

GRAND DUES.

The amount which each Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium and Tent shall pay for each member, will be named from year to year, and collected at the District Session. Any Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium and Tent, which fails to pay Grand Dues every year, shall pay the penalty awarded by the District Session.

DISTRICT SESSIONS.

The C. M. must represent his Temple either in person or by his Vice.

The C. P. must represent her Tabernacle either in person or by her Vice.

The P. P. or V.-P. must represent the Palatium.

The Queen Mother must represent her Tent in person or by her Vice.

Each of the above organizations must pay the traveling expenses and per diem of their Representatives.

TIME.

The time and month for holding the District Sessions, shall be fixed by the International Chief Grand Mentor.

REGALIA.

The full dress of the Uniform Knights of Tabor shall be as follows:

SUPPLIES.

The supplies which must be furnished, with the charter, to new Temples, are as follows:—

6 Constitutions, 2 Complete Rituals, 6 Blank Transfers, 6 Blank Traveling Certificates, 25 Monthly Cards, 12 Blank Petitions, 4 Blank Quarterly Reports, the Quarterly Pass and Key.

New Tabernacles, with the warrant:—6 Constitutions, 2 Third Degree Rituals, and 2 Fourth Degree Rituals, 25 Monthly Cards, 6 Blank Transfers, 6 Blank Traveling Certificates, 12 Blank Petitions, 4 Blank Quarterly Reports, the Quarterly Pass and Key.

New Palatiums, with the charter, 12 Rituals and 1 Manual. Palatiums make their own Constitution and By-Laws, but they shall not conflict with the General Laws and Constitution of Grand Temples and Tabernacles.

New Tents, with charter, 25 Monthly Cards and 12 Constitutions.

Every Temple, Tabernacle, Palatium and Tent must have and own a Manual within three months after having been organized and set up.

INCORPORATION.

Grand Temples and Tabernacles are a part of the International Order of Twelve, yet they are set apart as a Governing Power under the General Laws in their States, Territories or Provinces. For the purpose of legalizing these organizations and their departments, they must be incorporated. The Board of Grand Curators shall be the incorporators.

REAL ESTATE.

Grand Temples and Tabernacles should secure Real Estate, by having it deeded to the Board of Grand Curators and their successors in office, the ownership to be vested in the Grand Temple and Tabernacle of Knights and Daughters of Tabor, for the State of ———.

A Temple or Tabernacle which is making preparations to build a hall, or is about to buy a lot or building, may secure the same as follows :

First, call a meeting and elect Trustees. A deed can be made to these Trustees and their successors in office, the ownership to be vested in ——— Temple, No. —, of Knights of Tabor. (If a Tabernacle, in ——— Tabernacle, No. —, of Daughters of Tabor), name town or city, county and State.

When a Temple and Tabernacle unite to purchase, they call a joint meeting and elect Trustees. The property is deeded to these Trustees and their successors. The ownership is vested in ——— Temple, No. —, and ——— Tabernacle, No. —, of Knights and Daughters of Tabor. Name town or city, county and State.

In cities where there are a number of Temples and Tabernacles, a joint meeting is called of all the numbers, and Trustees are elected. A deed is made to these Trustees and their successors in office. The ownership is vested in (the name and number of each Temple and Tabernacle is given in the deed to the Knights and Daughters of Tabor, also name of city, county and State.)

THE NUMBER OF TRUSTEES.

There may be three, five, seven or nine Trustees. In some States they must all be males, in others a woman may be a Trustee. Whatever the law is, comply with it.

ELECTION.

The Trustees are elected annually, at a meeting called for that purpose. Thirty days' notice must be given, or the day and date fixed in the By-Laws.

STOCKS AND SHARES.

When one Temple or Tabernacle buys real estate, it is not necessary to form a joint-stock company, but when two or more join together, the amount of stock should be fixed and that divided into shares. Temples and Tabernacles may take shares, or it can be made so that the individual members can be shareholders. None but members of the International Order of Twelve, however, shall be shareholders.

INCORPORATION.

Real estate, upon which halls are built, or to be built, must be incorporated in accordance with the form of the law of the State in which the real estate is situated.

PALATIUM REGALIA.

The Regalia of a Palatine Guard shall be as follows:

Baldric, made of leather, four inches wide, length to suit the height of the person. The center emerald green, on each side of the green scarlet,

Agla—One of the twelve cabalistic names which the ancient Magies of Persia and other mystic workers used to express the incommunicable name of the Deity—the names given are as follows:

Ehi, Azazel, Eloho, El-Gibbor, Eloah, Sabaoth, Tseboath, Shaddai, Adonai, Makom and Agla. The followers of Mithra, in practicing their mystic rites, worshipped God under the name of Agla.

Amath—A noted Prince of the Tribe of Benjamin. He was a giant in strength, and one of Israel's mightiest warriors, a cotemporary with Barak and Deborah; and history tells us that he was one of the leaders, with ten thousand warriors, who conquered Sisera and his army in a battle near Mount Tabor, B. C. 1336.

Adonia—The Jews did not believe it right to pronounce the true name of God. Josephus, the Jewish historian, said it was not lawful to pronounce His holy name. In reading, whenever the word Jehovah occurred, they abstained from pronouncing it, and used the word Adonia instead. The definition of this word is Lord or Master. It is one of the twelve cabalistic names of God. The number "12" is a perfect number, and a symbol of purity.

Aya—In the mysteries of Ethiopia we find the name Aya used to express the Goddess of Thunder, the wife of the River Nile. She was supposed by the ancient Ethiopians to have full command of the rise and fall of the Nile. When it thundered, it was Aya speaking. She was supposed to be seated at the entrance of the ancient Tabernacle of Daughters of Tabor, the burning Altar is a very interesting part of the ceremonies. The Presiding Officer of the Temple and of the Tabernacle is seated South of the Altar, the Vice in the North, the C. R. in the East and the Chief Treasurer in the West.

Ammon—(See Jupiter Ammon).

Amen—An expression used at the closing of prayer, and signifies “So be it.” When it is used in a declaration, it means “Truly, faithfully fulfilled.”

Abassine—The name of the Inner Sentinel of the Ancient Tabernacle of Saba Moroe. Abyssinia, a country in Africa, situated South of Nubia and West of the Red Sea, once was a powerful ancient government, but with the fall of Ethiopia, Abyssinia gradually lost its civilization and internal wars debased the people to barbarism. The Abyssinians embraced Christianity under the reign of Constantine the Great, and for a time these people lived a peaceful life, and the prospects were that they would return to their ancient greatness, but internal strife again reduced this favored country to its savage practices. The population at this date is about 3,000,000, divided into many distinct tribes, most of whom are in a barbarous condition. Abassine, the guardian of the inner entrance of the ancient Tabernacle was a native of that country.

Amisis—The name of the Priestess of the Temple which was situated in ancient Nubia, in the famous city of Beyt-El-Welee. A drawing taken from ancient sculpture found in Nubia, represents Amisis seated in the northern part of the ancient Tabernacle, on a throne representing the Moon. She is receiving a delegation of rank which has come to consult Isis, by order of Ramesis the II, about the conducting and management of victory. The name Amisis is purely Ethiopian, and means that the bearer is a representative of the universal power of the Supreme Ruler of the World, or one able to fortell future events.

B.

Bible—The Book of Books, the Sacred Word of God, in which are contained the revelations of the Supreme Being. The Old and New Testament. The rules and principles of Christian faith and practice. It is humanity's sacred treasure. The revealed will of God to mankind. No person can become a member of the International Order of Twelve, unless a firm believer in the teachings of the Holy Volume.

Barak—About the year 1336, B. C., the children of Isreal were held captives by the Canaanites. They prayed unto God to deliver them. He heard their petition, and sent Deborah, a prophetess, who was Judge of Israel at that time, to call Barak, a son of Abinoam, of Kedesh-Naphthali, to go to Mount Tábor, and take with him ten thousand men of the tribes of Naphthali and Zebulon, Barak and Deborah gathered ten thousand men, fully armed and equipped, on the Plateau of Mount Tabor, and gave battle to the immense hosts of Canaanites, who were under the command of Sisera, and by the help of God secured a great victory, and freed the captive Israelites. Knights of Tabor will not forget the inner history which secured to Barak this extraordinary victory.

Book of Laws—Law is that which is set and fixed by statute, an edict, a rule of government, an expressed degree, a command, an enactment. No government could exist for any length of time without a code of laws founded upon the principles of justice and right. All who are enrolled members of the International Order of Twelve are presented with a book of laws—the Manual and the Constitutions. The unwritten law is impressed upon their memory in such a manner that it cannot be forgotten.

Ballot—It is the lawful duty of the members of a Temple and Tabernacle to ballot on every candidate. The balls are white and black. All members present at the Session must vote. If a candidate is reported on favorably by the Committee, the ballot box is prepared by one of the Chief Guards or Chief Tribunes, who puts all the balls into one apartment of the box and then places it on the altar. The C. S. or C. R. calls the roll. As each member's name is called, the vote is cast; when the roll is finished, the Guard or Tribune takes the box to the V.-M. or V.-P. who examines the balls, but does not announce. The box is then placed before the C. M. or C. P., and is examined, and the result announced. If four black balls are found, the candidate is rejected. If the C. M. or C. P. thinks a mistake has been made by some member voting a black ball, another ballot is ordered.

Blue—One of the appropriate colors found in the Second Degree in the Tabernacle. It is an emblem of universal love, and of that charity which is as are pink and scarlet; on one side a bee-hive: “The Children of Mount Tabor;” on the other side the name and number of the Tent, and city and State and country. The Taborian Cadets carry a United States flag also.

The flag of the United States of North America must be carried in all public processions, and also the flag of other nations wherein the Order is established.

Badges—A badge is a mark of distinction; it is worn by Orders and Societies to designate to which Order or Society the wearer belongs. They that wear a badge, ought to be prepared to prove their right to display it. The various badges worn by the members of the International Order of Twelve are hereby fully explained.

The Badge of a Knight of Tabor is a ten-pointed star, made of silver or white metal, with figures “777” in the center; a scarlet ribbon, with the words “International Order of Twelve” printed thereon. The fastening is a bar and pin, worn on left breast. The Badge of a Chief Mentor and Past C. M. is gold or yellow metal, with an emerald green ribbon.

The Badge of the Daughter of the Tabernacle is a five-pointed star on a ring of silver or white metal, with figures “333” in the center; a sky-blue ribbon, with the words “International Order of Twelve” printed thereon. The fastening is a bar and pin, worn on the left breast. This is the Saba Meroe Badge. The Badge of a C. P. or H. P. is either gold or yellow metal; the ribbon is emerald green. The Past C. P. or Past II. P. wear the same.

The Badge of the Royal House of Media is a ten pointed star within a ring, made of gold or yellow metal, lettered “R. M.” in the center of the star, with fastening bar and pin.

The Badge of Maids and Pages is a white metal or silver star, on the face of which are crossed javelins, with letters “T. T.,” and fastening bar and pin.

C.

Candace—History informs us that for two or three centuries the reigning Queens of Ethiopia were called Candace. Ethiopia, at the time that our Savior was on earth, was not the brilliant government that it was when Queen Nicaule visited Solomon, yet it was one of the recognized nations, under its own monarchs. Candace, Queen of Ethiopia, was enrolled among the sovereigns of the earth. One of her cabinet officers visited Jerusalem about the time that Jesus was crucified, and on his way home he had the Scriptures expounded to him by Phillip, an apostle; he believed and was baptized. This Eunuch was a man of authority under Queen Candace, and no doubt taught the Christian doctrine in Ethiopia. The name of Candace, Queen of Ethiopia, will be perpetuated in the Saba Meroe.

Cabalistic—The ancient traditions or a mysterious science, used by the ancients to interpret unpublished history of events. The Jewish doctors used a combination of words, letters and numbers in interpreting the Scriptures, and the cabalistic doctors pretended to foretell future events by the study of this science.

The Egyptian and Ethiopian priesthood used this secret science and mystery in their mystic work. It was by this means they taught the greatness of Jehovah; by this system they illustrated the great truths of the resurrection and immortality of body and soul. The Knights of Tabor, in their Third and Fourth Degrees, have clearly unfolded the mystical modes of the Cabala, in explaining sacred things.

Calanthe—A very interesting history is attached to this word. The great mysteries of Mithras were instituted by Zeradusht, a learned sage of ancient Persia. The mysteries of Mithras were divided into seven degrees. No one was accepted to membership until he had passed through the most severe tests, to prove that he was worthy to be admitted to that mystic and binding friendship which could not be severed. The aspirant for membership was first purified by water in seven baths, each bath of seven hours' duration. He was made to pass through what he supposed was flames of fire. If he had courage and determination he went through unhurt. The next was a fast of seven days to test his endurance. After these preparations he was permitted to enter a cavern, representing the world; on its walls were inscribed the celestial signs. Mithras was represented as seated in the sun, denoting that his followers paid adoration to the sun's light, heat and fire; to the right of Mithras were Dalmon and Phyletus, two men, with their right hands clasped together, around them was a bright rain-bow. They represented true friendship, and were votaries of the mysteries of Mithras. They had been tested, and proved their ability to keep an obligation.

daughter of the king, stood near her father when Phyletus made his appeal, and was so pleased with what she had heard, that she requested the king to visit the Province of Persia and investigate the statements that had been made. The king consented, and preparations were at once made for the journey. The king, with a large escort, arrived in the morning of the very day on which Dalmon was to suffer the penalty at sun-down.

After a short rest, the king summoned Dionysius, Dalmon and Phyletus to appear before him. The governor explained to the king all that transpired on the trial, and that the laws of Persia demanded life for life; and he further stated, that on the trial it was proven that Hieatus had made the attack on Dalmon; but the law was positive, and Dalmon must die, unless the king decreed otherwise. Phyletus again appealed to the king, and said that he did not wish the king to abrogate the law, nor would he ask a pardon, but that if a life must be given for a life, he should permit him to die in Dalmon's stead. On hearing this, Dalmon (though his wife and children were present) protested that he alone was guilty, and he never would consent to let his friend Phyletus die for him. Phyletus reminded Dalmon of his family, and that the Mystis would approve of his action, and the bonds of friendship required the sacrifice; but to all his entreaties Dalmon refused to listen. Calanthe pled with her father, the king, to pardon Dalmon. She contended that he was the most noble man she ever heard speak, and that the friendship between Phyletus and Dalmon was wonderful beyond expression, and that such greatness of courage and fidelity should merit the king's approval.

Astyages conferred apart with Dionysius. When he returned, he stated that the laws of the Meads and Persians could not be abrogated or annulled, and Dalmon must be cast into the tigers' den, and that he would not permit Phyletus to take his place. The sentence was that Dalmon must be cast into the tigers' den. Calanthe and Phyletus attempted to speak, but the king would not listen to them. The king, with his escort, accompanied the guards with Dalmon to the den. Just as the sun was setting, they lifted Dalmon to cast him into the den, amid the cries of his wife and children. Phyletus made one more effort to take his place, but was held back by the guards. Dalmon asked to speak, and the king gave him permission, he said, "Phyletus I leave my wife and children in your care; now, O king, I die contented." The king gave the signal, and the guards lifted Dalmon and let him down into the den. (The manner in which Dalmon was saved appeared wonderful to those who were not let into the secret. Under the orders of the king, secretly given to Dionysius, he instructed the keepers of the tigers to fasten them up in the second room of the den. Dalmon was let down into the empty room. The keepers were instructed to open the middle door as soon as Dalmon was drawn out. Those who looked into the opening could see the tigers as they walked around. All this was kept a secret from the people by the keepers.)

At length the king said, Calanthe, go to the opening and call Dalmon. The guards removed the cover, and Calanthe called Dalmon; he answered, O, Calanthe, Agla has preserved my life. The king, on hearing his voice, ordered the guards to let down a rope and lift Dalmon out of the den. The law and the sentence has been complied with, and he is free. When Dalmon was drawn out, the people gave a great shout of joy. They said it was a wonderful deliverance. Calanthe was represented in the cavern, seated in the moon, an emblem of her care over the members of the mystic order of Mithras, during the night of danger and distress.

Candidate—One who seeks and aspires to an office, elective or appointive. A petitioner to any Order or Society is a candidate for membership.

Chief Mentor—The title of the Presiding Officer in a Temple of The Knights of Tabor.

Chief Preceptress—The title of the Presiding Officer in a Tabernacle of the Daughter Priestesses of Tabor.

Cush—The name of Ham's eldest son. He was the founder of the Kingdom of Ethiopia. The descendants of Cush, or Cushites as they were called, were the most ancient civilized nation on earth. Saba Meroe, the capital of Ethiopia, was, according to ancient writers, one of the most beautiful cities in the world. It was the residence of the proud kings and queens of Ethiopia for over two thousand years. In that city was situated the ancient Tabernacle. The title of Priestess, in the Daughters of Tabor, is derived from that Tabernacle.

citizens. The Ethiopic mysteries were taught by the priesthood. They were represented in the ancient Tabernacle. The part performed by the Priestesses of Cyrene was to attend the Altar and keep a perpetual fire burning on it. They did this for hundreds of years. A school of philosophy was sustained. Aristippus and many others of note were the instructors. Josephus speaks of Cyrene as one among the powers in African civilization.

Dalmon—The mysteries of Mithras were founded upon the influence of true friendship. The members were bound together by the mystic rite of initiation, which emblemized the union of soul and body. Death could only part them. The followers of Mithras were always prepared to defend a member or sacrifice their lives to save him, and to die for him if necessary. Dalmon and Phyletus proved by their courage and fidelity to each other that the cords of Mithrian true friendship could not be broken. (See Calanthe.) It was from this part of the history of the mysteries of Mithras that the legend of Damon and Pythias was written. The name Dalmon signifies true and unalterable friendship.

Deborah—The fourth chapter of Judges (Bible) informs us that Deborah was a prophetess and a judge in Israel. This distinguished woman lived between Ramah and Bethel, on Mount Ephraim, and was a judge and prophetess of the Israelites 1,296 years before Christ. This part of the Scriptures is a pleasing study. It proves that God entrusts his work and the accomplishment of great events to the brain and hands of women as well as men, and establishes one of the teachings of the International Order of Twelve, which is that a woman is man's equal.

E.

Egypt—This famous country is situated in the northeastern part of Africa, between Nubia and the Mediterranean Sea. Egypt was settled by Mizraim, the second son of Ham. Owing to the close proximity to Ethiopia and the close relationship of the founders, the Egyptians soon adopted the Ethiopian civilization. For many years these two nationalities were united under one government. Ham, the father of Cush and Mizraim, lived, after settling in Africa, about three hundred years. He resided for a number of years in Egypt, and was a co-ruler with Mizraim, until his death. Modern writers make the mistake of awarding to Egypt the title of the first civilized government on earth. This is the fault of not taking the proper means to explain the two forms of government, and in giving of each the true historical facts. When the truth is told, without prejudice, Ethiopia stands at the head of civilization. It is a proud title, and the descendants of this noble ancient people must not permit this honor to be taken from them; in fact, it cannot be lost—historical facts must and will stand. The hieroglyphical records on the sculptured stones, found in various parts of Ethiopia, are evidence of African greatness. The symbolized columns of the Temples in Nubia, which have been covered by the dust of ages, have recently been excavated, and the student of history can read on them the history of a great people.

Ethiopia—(See Cush, and Egypt.) It would take too much space to give a history of this country in detail.

Elohim—This is one of the names of God. It is a sacred and mystic name. The name symbolizes the Holy Trinity, a mysterious union in the Godhead. The ancient Jews had a deep reverence for this name of the Deity, and never pronounced it, but substituted the word Adonia, or Father.

East—In the Saba Meroe, the Priestess of Memnon is seated in the East, symbolizing the rising of the sun, and the beginning of another day.

Elion—The candidates in the Ethiopic mysteries had to pass through a purification, divided into three parts. The first, air; the second, fire; the third, water. A subterranean chamber was so arranged that a fierce wind swept through it. If the candidate succeeded in passing through the chamber, he was informed that he had been favored by Elion. The chamber of fire was presided over by Eloï. The chamber of water was presided over by Noïl. In passing these three chambers, the candidate proved his courage and will-power. Elion means mortality; Eloï, immortality; Noïl, true happiness. These words have a prominent place in The Key Knights' history.

F.

through the winding and intricate passages to the entrance. Their name implies that they were from the western part of Ethiopia. The symbol worn by them consisted of three stars, as a sign that they belonged to the Hesperine Priesthood, and had direct communication with the Garden of Hesperides.

Hesperides—An Ethiopic legend, handed down from the remotest period, speaks of the Garden of Hesperides. It was said to have been situated in Central Africa, and was a most beautiful and brilliant garden—a Paradise to live in. The ancient Ethiopians believed that it was the abode of those who originally taught their forefathers and founders the great lessons of social civilization—morals, literature, religion, and all the sciences. The emblems and precepts taught by them are of the highest order. The Phenix—Motto: We regenerate ourselves. The Ram—Motto: Peace, patience, friendship. The Thunderbolt—Motto: Light from heaven. The Great Serpent, whose body surrounded the entire garden—The precepts: Fear not God's works, they are good. The Pyramid—Motto: The Lord has been merciful to us.

The philosophy of the Hesperides is replete with beautiful legendary instructions. It shows the ideal consummation of social and religious civilization. The Garden of Hesperides was a symbol representing ancient Ethiopia in the lead of the civilized world.

I.

Indian—In some parts of the ritualistic work of the International Order of Twelve, reference is made to the Indian mysteries. Nearly all the ancient mysteries had their origin in Ethiopia or Egypt. After a thorough search for a derivation of the mysteries of India, we find that they originated in the East. The Gymnosophists were celebrated for their learning. They inculcated a belief in the triad of Gods, under the names of Brama, Vishnu, and Siva, and these were represented as the supreme, eternal, and uncreated God. They taught the immortality of the soul. The mysteries were divided into four degrees. The initiation was very severe, and required courage and endurance. The ceremonies were interspersed with prayer, fasting and ablutions. The candidate was required to serve in a preparatory state for several months, by prayer, fasting, and cleansing and purifying by water. The First Degree represented our first parents in Paradise—in happiness. The Second Degree represented them expelled from the garden, and their sufferings. The Third Degree represented the life in the world, with its cares and toils. The candidate was impressed with what he saw and heard, and that a pure life in this world and a firm belief in Brama, Vishnu, and Siva, would insure an eternal life of happiness. The Fourth Degree represented the soul entering Paradise. He was entrusted with the sacred word, “Aum,” which signifies: created, preserved and saved.

The object of the Indian mysteries was to teach the unity of God, and the necessity of living a pure life.

J.

Jabin—One thousand three hundred years before the advent of Christ, the Lord, the children of Israel were held in bondage by Jabin, King of Canaan. Deborah, a prophetess, being inspired by the Lord God, caused Barak to gather from the tribes of Naphthali and Zebulon ten thousand men on Mount Tabor, to do battle against the large army of Jabin. Deborah said that God had promised them the victory, and Israel would be freed. History tells us that a desperate battle was fought—God fighting for Israel—Jabin's hosts were conquered and Israel's bondage was broken. The definition of the word Jabin is: he will cause pain.

Jewels—The accepted definition of the word Jewel, is personal ornaments of gold, silver and precious stones. In the International Order of Twelve the official badges worn by the officers are called Jewels. The following is a description of the various official Jewels worn in the different departments.

The Temples have twelve Jewels. Ten-pointed stars, made of silver or white metal; ribbon, light scarlet, with the words "International Order of Twelve" printed thereon, fastened by a bar and pin; in the center of the star the initial letters of the different officers are placed. The C. M.'s Jewel has green ribbon and yellow metal star.

The Tabernacle has eighteen Jewels. Five-pointed star, resting on a ring made of silver or white metal, in the center of star the initials of the different officers are placed; ribbon, sky-blue, with Knight—The institution of the Knighthood was first conferred by kings and emperors as a mark of honor upon some distinguished soldier or statesman. The ceremonies of the Knighthood were very impressive. Organized Knighthood commenced about the year 302 B. C. by St. Helena, the mother of Constantine the Great. The Order of Knights of the Holy Sepulchre was instituted by her. These Knights were eminent for their courage and fidelity to the Christian religion. There are at this day a large number of organized Knights among the various Secret Orders.

Kush—(or Cush)—The eldest son of Ham.

Kushites—(or Cushites)—The descendants of Kush (or Cush).

L.

Law-Book—A book containing or treating of the laws.

Lybenus—In the mystic work of Ethiopia Lybenus was a very prominent figure, and was entrusted with especial duties. The Priestess of Lybia, or we will say the several Priestesses of that country, under the name of Lybenus, were always on duty as guards of the entrance to the ancient Tabernacle, at the mystic door. All who approached must give the Niolotic word and sign. In the Taborian formula Lybenus is symbolized in a true representative manner.

M.

Media—This remarkable country was a civilized government nearly one thousand years before Christ. They traced their origin to the ancient Zend Tribes. The Sacred Book of Zendavesta unfolds a system of ceremonial religion which is traced back to the Ethiopic mysteries. The history of the Medes is well worthy of careful study.

Meroe—The city of Meroe, situated in Central Africa, was built on the banks of the river Nile. It was the most ancient city in the world. Its African name was Saba. The sacerdotal and palatial city of Ethiopia, the residence of the kings and queens. Within its walls was the ancient Tabernacle, which was instituted to preserve the name and worship of the true God. Two thousand years before Christ this city was the seat of learning and refinement. It is said to have been the most beautiful city that was ever built. Strangers and foreigners, who visited this city, call it the Celestial City. During the time that Solomon, King of Israel, was in the height of his glory, this city sent one of its most learned women, Queen Nicaule of Ethiopia, called Queen of Sheba in the Scriptures, to test his wisdom. After a contest of many days, the queen declared that Solomon was the wisest man whom she had ever met, and Solomon said she was the most learned woman in the world. These two distinguished monarchs, who stood at the head of their respective governments, were the wonder and admiration of all the other nations. Meroe, with its marble palaces and impregnable walls, which the large Egyptian army, under the command of that able general, Moses, the Hebrew, after months of battering, could not make an impression upon, this city, which from its strength seemed to be enabled to stand for all time to come, has passed away, buried under the dust of ages. No vestige now remains of this once powerful city, and the people of Ethiopia are scattered. The wheel of time which rolled Ethiopia to the bottom of the hill, that same wheel—mark what I say—will some day roll it to the top of the hill again. God is just.

N.

Nicaule—History speaks of several queens of Ethiopia. In this Lexicon we will only refer to two of them. Nicaule was crowned Queen of Ethiopia and Egypt about the year 980 before Christ. These two powerful kingdoms had for a number of years been united under one government. This queen excelled in learning and diplomacy. It was this queen who visited King Solomon when he was in the zenith of his glory, 992 years before Christ. Josephus speaks of this visit, and says she was admired for her many accomplishments and learning. Chapter 10, 1st Kings (Bible) tells us that she visited Solomon to test his wisdom by propounding very difficult questions. This chapter refers to her as Queen of Sheba. The word Sheba means conversion. It is certain that this queen was converted to the Jewish faith during her visit to Solomon. Some modern writers have endeavored to prove that this queen was not the reigning monarch of Ethiopia and Egypt, by asserting that she was a Sabeian, from South Arabia; but Josephus, with full access to the records of Jewish history, could not make a mistake, and he was an unprejudiced writer. The truth will prevail, and that is that she was an Ethiopian, and the most learned woman of the age in which she lived.

Palatium—A Latin word, meaning a palace. One of the seven hills of Rome, on which Augustus Cæsar had his residence, was called a Palatium. The Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Degrees in the International Order of Twelve compose the third department or Royal House of Media. The place of meeting is called the Palatium.

Palatine Guards—The Guards of the Palace. This is the name of the drill department of the Palatium.

Preceptress—A teacher or instructor. It is the proper title of the Presiding Officer in the Daughter's Tabernacle, a department in the International Order of Twelve.

Q.

Queen—The wife of a king, a woman who is the sovereign ruler of a kingdom. Queen Mother is the title of the executive officer in a Tent of Maids and Pages, the fourth department in the International Order of Twelve.

R.

Revista—A noted Princess of the Median empire during the reign of Zendacer, 600 years before Christ. His daughter, Revista, was his principal advisor, and her influence was very great throughout the kingdom, so much so, that the king consulted her on all State matters.

Rameses—To obtain a partial history of ancient Ethiopia, careful search must be made. Upon investigation it is found that Ethiopia and Egypt, for the first four hundred years of their existence, were so closely and intimately connected that they seemingly had but one government, and yet the careful searcher can trace the line that divides the two kingdoms. The founding and settling of Ethiopia and Egypt is clearly written. Ham, a son of Noah, had four sons; Cush, Mizraim, Phut and Canaan. Biblical history is plain in its details of what parts of the world were settled by the families of these sons. Noah lived three hundred and fifty years after the flood. Since then the number of people increased considerably, and at the building of the Tower of Babel, when their languages were confounded, the Lord scattered them abroad to people all the earth. The families of the different sons of Noah must have been very large. The various boundaries of their individual countries were fixed. Canaan, the youngest son, settled in the land of Judea, then known as the land of Canaan. Nimrod remained in the land of Shinar, and became the founder of the two mighty empires of antiquity, Assyria and Babylon. Ham and his three sons, Cush, Mizraim and Phut, took up their line of march for Africa. They remained for a short time in the land of Media. They finally crossed the Isthmus of Suez and from thence crossed over into Africa. Ham, Mizraim and Phut settled on the Delta (Egypt), and Cush with his families pushed into the interior of Africa. That part of the country from the borders of Egypt to the interior of Africa was called Ethiopia. Cush laid the foundation of Saba, the capital city, on the banks of the river Nile. This beautiful city was called Meroe by the Greeks. Under the wise administration of Cush, Ethiopia soon became a flourishing kingdom, with all the attributes of a polished, enlightened people. Egypt, from the close relationship of the people, soon adopted the Ethiopian manners and customs. These two countries were for years conjointly under the governorship of Ham, Cush and Mizraim. Ham, during his lifetime, was the chief ruler, bearing the title of Rameses I; after his death Cush was the chief, bearing the title of Rameses II; after his death Mizraim governed, under the name of Rameses III. Ham died at an advanced age, being much loved by the people. He was deified under the name of Jupiter Ammon, and was worshiped as a God. He is represented as having the head of a ram, with a man's body.

Cush, when he died, was deified under the name of Sesostris. He was represented as having a dog's face, with a human body.

Mizraim, when he passed from earth, was deified under the name of Osiris. He was represented as having a bull's face, with a man's body.

A work, "The Antiquities of Africa," which was published in London, England, in 1703, informs us that ancient Ethiopia was divided into forty-five kingdoms. Diodorus, Siculus, and other ancient historians tell us that the laws, manners and customs of Egypt were nearly the same as those of Ethiopia.

There is no doubt but that Cush and Mizraim, after the death of Ham, governed conjointly for the benefit of both countries. The pyramids were undoubtedly built by them. The principal ones are the monuments of Rameses I, Rameses II, and Rameses III. The catacombs and the numerous battle on and around Mount Tabor, one thousand three hundred years before Christ.

Shamgar—The name of one of Israel's mightiest men. Shamgar was a son of Anath. 1336 years before Christ the Israelites and Philistines were almost continuously at war. In one of the battles Shamgar slew six hundred Philistines with an ox-goad.

T.

Tabernacle—The definition of Tabernacle is a flimsily built temporary habitation, a tent or portable structure, moveable at the will of those who owned it. A sacred Tabernacle was a moveable tent-like house, for the worship of God. The most ancient Tabernacle known was erected within the walls of the ancient city of Saba, in Ethiopia. It represented the temporary existence of human beings on this earth. The Tabernacle erected by Moses in the Wilderness of Sin, 1491 years before Christ, for the worship of God, while the children of Israel were journeying from the Red Sea to the Promised Land, was the most costly one ever built. In our Order, the place of meeting for the Daughters of Tabor is called a Tabernacle.

Temple—An edifice erected to worship the Deity. Temples, for the worship of idols, were numerous in ancient times, even now there are numerous Temples erected for the worship of idols. The Jewish Temple, built by Solomon, and dedicated to the worship of the true God, is acknowledged to have been the most artistic structure ever built by man. Any Christian church, or any place used for divine worship, is termed God's Temple. The place where the Knights of Tabor meet is called a Temple.

Tabor—A lute, or a kind of drum-guitar. Mount Tabor, a conical mountain in Galilee, is about eighteen hundred French feet high, on the top of which is a beautiful plateau, about one mile in circumference. It is a historical mountain, and a land-mark where events transpired which made it memorable. About the year 1396 B. C. Deborah, a judge and prophetess of Israel, summoned Barak to gather ten thousand men of the tribes of Zebulon and Naphthali on the top of Mount Tabor and to give battle to the mighty hosts of Sisera. The scene in that battle was grand—God fought for Israel that day. The stars of Heaven (angels) fought against Jabin's army. The lightning and thunder of Jehovah's power was hurled against the Canaanites, and Israel was victorious.

The second scene was under the new dispensation—the transfiguration of Jesus, the Son of God—this glorious sight was witnessed by three Apostles: Peter, James and John.

Tetra—This word is from the Greek, and means four. Among the ancients the figure four (4) had a mystic significance. The inexpressible name of the Deity was expressed in four letters, the most prominent of the mysteries which originated in Ethiopia and Egypt and which were transmitted to the surrounding nations. We find that the figure four (4) represented the Great Ruler of Mankind. A. G. L. A. and E. L. J. E. were the cabalistic letters representing the ineffable name of God. The figure four (4) represents the four necessary elements to perpetuate the existence of mankind, namely : earth, fire, air and water. It represents the four principal departments in the International Order of Twelve, viz: Temples, Tabernacles, Palatiums and Tents; also the four Presiding Officers: Chief Mentor, Chief Preceptress, Presiding Prince, and Queen Mother.

Three—Among the ancient mysteries the figure three (3) occupied a prominent place. It is a perfect number. It designates the triune God—the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost—the Holy Trinity. Among the pagan nations, the figure three was prominent as a mystic number. Cerberus, the Dog-God, had three heads. The scepter of Neptune was a trident. A triple cord was used in the Ethiopic mysteries. Three colors: red, black and white, were worn as a charm to protect the wearer in time of danger. The three-fold cord was not easily broken. Three times three are strong numbers in the ritualistic work of the Order of Twelve. The three principal colors of the International Order of Twelve are: red, black and green. Red is emblematic of the blood of Jesus, which saves all who come unto Him in faith. Black is an emblem of death, and reminds us of the fact that all mortals must pass through the narrow passageway before becoming immortal. Green is emblematic of eternity, and admonishes us that if we would enjoy eternal rest and happiness we must live the life of true Christians on earth. Knights and Daughters of Tabor, when you wear the regalia, remember its instructions.

Twelve is a perfect number. A study of the twelve Apostles in the Holy Scriptures is pleasing and instructive to the biblical student. In many of the ancient mysteries the figure twelve (12) had a prominent part. In the mystic ancient Tabernacle of Saba Meroe there were twelve divisions of officers and members—the most notable were the Priestesses of Twelve. In the Key Knights of Tabor the figure twelve (12) represents a perfect Temple of the Uniform Rank. There must be twelve officers present to constitute a Taborian Temple. There must be twelve officers to all perfect Palatiums, of the Royal House of Media. The Past Arcanum must have twelve officers. The twelve requisites demanded of every Knight and Daughter of Tabor, if they are true and worthy, are: 1st, Justice; 2d, Temperance; 3d, Prudence; 4th, Constancy; 5th, Morality; 6th, Industry; 7th, Benevolence; 8th, Love; 9th, Truth; 10th, Perseverance; 11th Courage; 12th, Mercy. Knights and Daughters are requested to define these twelve requisites, and make proper application in their lectures.

U.

Unite—To combine, to join together, to form a whole, to become one, cemented, consolidated, acting in concert, a united compact body. The International Order of Twelve of Knights and Daughters of Tabor is a unit, bound together by the twelve secret degrees.

Unity—Means oneness, indivisibility, uniformity, a circle. The obligations of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor bind together the members in one body. The entire circle is a unity.

Union—The act of uniting, combining, joining, consolidating an agreement on the part of persons to form a unit, under the general laws and rules. The International Order of Twelve forms a union of Grand Temples and Tabernacles, by its General Laws.

Uniform—The dress regalia of a Knight of Tabor. It is designated by the number of Degrees he has received, if he has received the full four, he is classed as a Uniform Rank Knight of Tabor.

V.

Vote—To signify will or preference either by ballot, signs or viva voce. It is the duty of every member of the Order to vote, just as conscience dictates, and for the protection of the good name of the Order. When a vote decides a question or the business under consideration, the minority must rest satisfied. There are three forms of voting in the International Order of Twelve: 1st, the secret ballot, in the degrees; 2d, the written ballots, on electing officers; 3d, the vote by signs. The taking of a vote in public can be expressed either standing or by yeas or nays.

Votaries—Those who are devoted, or consecrated by a vow or promise. The Priestesses of Saba Meroe were votaries of the ancient Tabernacle, and devoted to its service and worship.

W.

West—The ancient Tabernacle of Saba Meroe, faced north and south. When the Fourth Degree is opened for work or business, the official position of the four prominent officers is as follows: Tharbis, the High Priestess, is seated in the South; Amisis, the Vice-Priestess, is seated in the North; Sesotheri, the Priestess of Memnon, is seated in the East; Seraphis, the Priestess of Ophir, is seated in the West. When a Temple of the Knights of Tabor is opened in any of the degrees, the C. M. is seated in the South; the V.-M. in the North; the C. S. in the East, and the C. T. in the West.

X. .

Xanthian—When ancient Ethiopia was in its height of power and culture, a sect of Ethiopians formed a settlement east of Central Africa, and built a city called Xanthus. They were a peaceful people, and excelled in sculpture. The Xanthians were noted for their extreme temperate habits. After the downfall of Ethiopia, it is supposed that a remnant emigrated into Asia, and settled in Italy, and were known as Xerophagists or dry livers. They worshiped God under the name of Jupiter Ammon. During their residence in Xanthus they were represented in the ancient Tabernacle of Saba Meroe by the Meroes.

Yarubas—The Ethiopic definitions of the symbols, mottoes and precepts, found in the Garden of Hesperides. The Yaruban language is supposed to be the ancient Ethiopic, and is spoken to this day by the tribes south of the Desert of Sahara.
